FROM THE BLACK WE HEAR--

MARK (V.O.)
Did you know there are more people with genius IQ's living in China than there are people of any kind living in the United States?

ERICA (V.O.)
That can't be true.

MARK (V.O.)
It is true.

ERICA (V.O.)
What would account for that?

MARK (V.O.)
Well first of all, a lot of people live in China. But here's my question:

FADE IN:

INT. CAMPUS BAR - NIGHT

MARK ZUCKERBERG is a sweet looking 19 year old whose lack of any physically intimidating attributes masks a very complicated and dangerous anger. He has trouble making eye contact and sometimes it's hard to tell if he's talking to you or to himself.

ERICA, also 19, is Mark's date. She has a girl-next-door face that makes her easy to fall for. At this point in the conversation she already knows that she'd rather not be there and her politeness is about to be tested.

The scene is stark and simple.

MARK
How do you distinguish yourself in a population of people who all got 1600 on their SAT's?

ERICA
I didn't know they take SAT's in China.

MARK
I wasn't talking about China anymore, I was talking about here.

ERICA
You got 1600?

MARK
You can sing in an a Capella group.
ERICA
Does that mean that you actually got nothing wrong?

MARK
Or you row crew or you invent a $25 dollar PC.

ERICA
Or you get into a final club.

MARK
Or you get into a final club, exactly.

ERICA
I like guys who row crew.

MARK
(beat)
Well I can't do that. And yes, it means I got nothing wrong on the test.

ERICA
Have you ever tried?

MARK
I'm trying now.

ERICA
To row crew?

MARK
To get into a final club. To row crew? No. Are you, like—whatever—crazy?

ERICA
Sometimes, Mark—seriously—you say two things at once and I'm not sure which one we're talking about.

MARK
But you've seen guys who row crew, right?

ERICA
No.

MARK
Okay, well they're bigger than me. They're world class athletes. And a second ago you said you like guys who row crew so I assumed you'd met one.

ERICA
I guess I meant I liked the idea of it. The way a girl likes cowboys.
MARK
The Phoenix is good.

ERICA
This is a new topic?

MARK
It's the same topic.

ERICA
We're still talking about the finals clubs?

MARK
Would you rather talk about something else?

ERICA
No, it's just that since the beginning of the conversation about finals clubs I think I may have had a birthday.

MARK
We can change the subject.

ERICA
(can't get over it)
There are more people in China with genius IQ's than the entire population of--

MARK
It's about exclusivity.

ERICA
God...what is?

MARK
The final clubs. And that's how you distinguish yourself. The Phoenix is the most diverse. The Fly Club, Roosevelt punched the Porc.

ERICA
Which one?

MARK
The Porcellian, the Porc, it's the best of the best.

ERICA
I actually meant which Roosevelt.

MARK Theodore.
ERICA
Okay, well, which is the easiest one to get into?

MARK takes a cigarette from a pack, lights it, takes a drag and blows the smoke out before he says...

MARK Um.

ERICA
What?

MARK
Why would you ask me that?

ERICA
I was just asking.

MARK
They're all hard to get into. My friend Eduardo made $300,000 betting on oil futures last summer and he won't get in. Money or the ability to make it doesn't impress anybody around here. Everybody can do that.

ERICA
He made $300,000 in a summer?

MARK
He likes meteorology.

ERICA
You said it was oil futures.

MARK
If you can predict the weather you can predict the price of heating oil. You asked me that because you think the final club that's easiest to get into is the one where I'll have the best chance.

ERICA
(beat)
I've lost my place again.

MARK
You asked me which one was the easiest to get into because you think that's where I have the best chance.

ERICA
The one that's easiest to get into would be the one where anybody had the best chance.
MARK
I just think you asked—the placement of where you asked the question—

ERICA
I was honestly just asking. Okay? I was asking just to ask. Mark, I’m not speaking in code.

ERICA
You’re obsessed with the finals clubs. You have finals clubs OCD and you need to see someone about this who’ll prescribe some sort of medication. You don’t care if side effects may include blindness, okay, just do it.

MARK
Final clubs. Not finals clubs and there’s a difference between being obsessed and being motivated.

ERICA
Yes there is.

MARK
Well you do—that was cryptic—so you do speak in code.

ERICA
I didn’t mean to be cryptic.

MARK
I’m saying I need to do something substantial in order to get the attention of the clubs.

ERICA Why?

MARK
Because they’re exclusive. (beat) And fun and they lead to a better life.

ERICA
You think Teddy Roosevelt got elected president because he was a member of the Phoenix Club?

MARK
He was a member of the Porcellian and yes I do.
ERICA
Maybe he sang in an a Capella group.

MARK
I want to be straight forward and tell you that I think you should be a lot more supportive. If I get in I'll be taking you to the parties and you'll be meeting people that you wouldn't normally get to meet.

ERICA
(smiles)
You would do that for me?

MARK
You're my girlfriend.

ERICA
Okay, well I want to be straight forward and tell you that I'm not anymore.

MARK
(beat)
What do you mean?

ERICA
I'm not your girlfriend anymore.

MARK
Is this a joke?

ERICA
No, I'm sorry, it's not.

MARK
You're breaking up with me?

ERICA
You're going to introduce me to people I wouldn't normally get to meet? What the fuck is that supposed to mean?

MARK
Take it easy.

ERICA
What was it supposed to mean?

MARK
It was--Erica, the reason we're able to sit here and drink is that you used to sleep with the door guy.

ERICA
(pause)
I want to really try not to lose it now.

(MORE)
ERICA (CONT'D)
The door guy's name is Bobby. I haven't slept with the door guy, the door guy's a friend of mine. He's a perfectly good class of people and what part of Long Island are you from--England?

MARK
I'm from Westchester.

ERICA
I'm going back to my dorm.

MARK
Wait, wait, this is real?

ERICA
Yes.

MARK
I apologize, okay? Siddown.

ERICA
I'm going back to my dorm, I have to study.

MARK
Erica--

ERICA Yeah.

MARK
I'm sorry and I mean it..

ERICA
I appreciate that but--

MARK
Come on.

ERICA
--I have to study.

MARK
You don't have to study. Let's just talk.

ERICA
I can't.

MARK
Why?

ERICA
Because it's exhausting. Going out with you is like dating a stairmaster.
MARK
All I meant is that you go to B.U. and so you’re not likely to—I wasn’t making a comment on your parents—I was saying you go to B.U.

ERICA
I have to go study.

MARK
You don’t have to study.

ERICA
How do you know I don’t have to study?!

MARK
Because you go to B.U.!

ERICA stares at him...

MARK (CONT’D)
(beat)
Do you want to get some food?

ERICA
I’m sorry you’re not sufficiently impressed with my education.

MARK
And I’m sorry I don’t have a rowboat.

ERICA
I think we should just be friends.

MARK
I don’t need friends.

ERICA
I was being polite, I had no intention of being friends with you.

MARK
You’re really leaving.

ERICA takes MARK’s hand and looks at him tenderly...

(close)
Listen. You’re going to be successful and rich. But you’re going to go through life thinking that girls don’t like you because you’re a tech geek. And I want you to know, from the bottom of my heart, that that won’t be true. It’ll be because you’re an asshole.
And with that stinger, ERICA walks off and we stay on MARK as the pulsing intro to Paul Young's "Love of the Common People" crashes in--

ERICA (CONT'D)
(calling over her shoulder)
And you're never getting into a final club.

Along with the MUSIC, we slowly push in on MARK. A fuse has just been lit.

EXT. BAR - NIGHT

As MARK busts out of the bar, past Bobby the door guy and into the population of Harvard Square.

EXT. HARVARD SQUARE - NIGHT

As MARK continues on, he passes a group of people heading in the opposite direction for a party.

As MARK's steady and determined stride continues, he'll pass by all kinds of (seemingly) happy, well-adjusted, socially adept people.

The vocals from the Paul Young song come in--

PAUL YOUNG

Then a moment or two later, a glass with ice gets set down next to the lap-top. Then a carton of orange juice followed by a bottle of vodka.

MARK’s fingers dance easily on the keyboard—like a Juilliard pianist warming up.

In the exact time it takes him to pour the vodka and orange juice over ice, the website he’s just called up gets loaded onto the screen.

Buckonit.com

This is the only place he’s comfortable.

TITLE:

8:13 PM

He begins blogging.

MARK (V.O.)
Erica Albright’s a bitch. You think that’s because her family changed their name from Albrecht or do you think it’s because all B.U. girls are bitches?

He takes a good gulp of his drink. We see the words we’re hearing filling up his computer screen—

MARK (V.O.) (CONT’D)
Polks, for the record, she may look like a 34D but she’s getting all kinds of help from our friends at Victoria’s Secret. She’s a 34B, as in barely anything there. False advertising.

CUT TO:
INT. MARK’S DORM ROOM – NIGHT

Fresh ice gets dropped in the glass and a new drink poured. “Love of the Common People” continues.

TITLE:

9:48 PM

In back of MARK, sitting on the bed and hitting a bong, is BILLY OLSEN.

MARK (V.O.)
The truth is she has a nice face. I need to think of something to help me take my mind off her. Easy enough, except I need an idea.

MARK has moved his mouse to an icon on his desktop labeled “Kirkland Facebook”. He clicks and opens it. A menu of photos appear. He blogs again.

MARK (V.O.) (CONT’D)
I’m a little intoxicated, I’m not gonna lie. So what if it’s not even 10PM and it’s a Tuesday night? The Kirkland facebook is open on my desktop and some of these people have pretty horrendous facebook pics. Billy Olson’s sitting here and had the idea of putting some of these girls’ faces next to pictures of farm animals and have people vote on who’s hotter.

CUT TO:

INT. FINAL CLUB – NIGHT

We’ll be cutting back here a lot in this sequence, with the Paul Young song tying them together, as we show—mostly MOS—preparations under way for the hottest party on campus tonight.

We start on a good looking STUDENT fixing his tie in the bathroom mirror. He walks out of the bathroom and into the main area where he’s immediately tossed a bottle of champagne by a similarly dressed STUDENT. We see that there are a couple of dozen other guys around. Our guy takes the champagne bottle and sticks it on the bar, which is being stocked by two sexy FEMALE uniformed BARTENDERS.

Our guy walks past a DJ’s table where the DJ is setting up his incredibly high-end equipment.

Our guy trots down a set of mahogany and red-carpet stairs, opens a heavy door and looks out to the sidewalk.
A BOUNCER in a tuxedo is standing by a velvet rope which is holding back three dozen STUDENTS. The students are mostly women and the women are all dressed to catch a man.

Over all this, we HEAR MARK CONTINUING--

MARK (V.O.)
Good call, Mr. Olson! I think he's on to something.

TITLE:

MARK (V.O.) (CONT'D)
Yea, it's on. I'm not gonna do the farm animals but I like the idea of comparing two people together. It gives the whole thing a very Turing feel since people's ratings of the pictures will be more implicit than, say, choosing a number to represent each person's hotness like they do on hotornot.com. The first thing we're going to need is a lot of pictures. Unfortunately, Harvard doesn't keep a public centralized facebook so I'm going to have to get all the images from the individual houses that people are in. Let the hacking begin.

CUT TO:

INT. MARK'S DORM ROOM - NIGHT

There are two more kids in the room with MARK—DUSTIN MOSKOWITZ and CHRIS HUGHES.

MARK (V.O.)
First up is Kirkland. They keep everything open and allow indexes in their Apache configuration, so a little WGET magic is all that's necessary to download the entire Kirkland facebook. Kids' stuff.

On the computer screen, we've been seeing him download picture after picture of Harvard girls.

CUT TO:

EXT. FINAL CLUB - NIGHT

THREE COEDS, dressed to kill, are talking to the BOUNCER. The BOUNCER looks up at TWO HANDSOME CLUB MEMBERS. The MEMBERS give him the nod and the THREE COEDS are let past the velvet rope.
They're led in to a party in full swing. The best and the brightest are checking out the hottest and the easiest.

CUT TO:

INT. MARK'S DORM ROOM - NIGHT

MARK finishes another drink and gets back to his work.

TITLE:

1:03 AM

MARK (V.O.)
Next is Elliot. They're also open but with no indexes on Apache. I can run an empty search and it returns all of the images in the database in a single page. Then I can save the page and Mozilla will save all the images for me. Excellent. Moving right along.

Flying by at super-speed on MARK's computer screen have been commands and images that the rest of us can't possibly understand.

CUT TO:

INT. FINAL CLUB - NIGHT

GIRLS are dancing with each other, doing tequila shots with guys and laughing at jokes.

PAUL YOUNG

Over this we HEAR MARK's blog posts starting to cascade into one another--

Lowell has some security. They require a username/password combo and I'm going to go ahead and say they don't have access to main fas user database, so they have no way of--

TITLE:

2:08 AM

And now a new guy walks into Mark's room. This is EDUARDO SAVERIN--a sweet looking Brazilian sophomore who almost always wears a three-piece suit.

EDUARDO
What's going on?

MARK (V.O.)
Perfect timing. Eduardo's here and he's going to have the key ingredient.

EDUARDO
Mark. What's going on?
MARK
Wardo.

EDUARDO
Did you and Erica split up?

MARK
How did you know that?

EDUARDO
It's on your blog.

MARK
Oh yeah.

EDUARDO
Are you alright?

MARK
I need you.

EDUARDO
I'm here for you.

MARK
No, I need the algorithm you used for the oil futures.

EDUARDO
Are you okay?

MARK
We're ranking girls.

EDUARDO
Why?

MARK
To watch the bottom 200's heads explode.

EDUARDO
(beat)
You think that's such a good idea?

MARK
What's the algorithm?

CUT TO:

INT. FINAL CLUB - NIGHT

The CLUB PRESIDENT is addressing the GUESTS from the top of the stairs—
CLUB PRESIDENT
One of the oldest, one of the most exclusive clubs—not just at Harvard but in the world—and I want to welcome you to this year's first—

CUT TO:

INT. MARK'S DORM ROOM - NIGHT

EDUARDO is writing an equation with a grease marker on the window. When the equation's done it looks like this:

Girl A:

\[ E_a = \frac{1}{1 + 10(R_b - R_a) / 400} \]

Girl B:

\[ E_b = \frac{1}{1 + 10(R_b - R_b) / 400} \]

EDUARDO
Give each girl a base rating of 1400. At any time "Girl A" has a rating R-a and "Girl B" has a rating R-b.

MARK
When any two girls are matched up there's an expectation of which will win based on their current rating.

EDUARDO
(tapping the window)
Those expectations are expressed this way.

MARK
Let's write it.

EXT. FINAL CLUB - NIGHT

A few more attractive co-eds get let in through the velvet rope.

Still the right.

EDUARDO
It works.

DUSTIN
Who should we send it to first?

EDUARDO Dwyer.

CHRIS Neal.

EDUARDO
Who are you gonna send it to?

MARK's made the link to e-mail and hits send.
MARK

Just a couple of people. The question is, who are they gonna send it to?

CUT TO:

INT. PHOENIX CLUB - NIGHT

The party's in its drunken stage.

We move to a room where there's a co-ed poker game underway with the girls smoking cigars. A bra and a couple of pairs of stockings are out on the table. As we move through the poker room, we see a computer behind one of the players. The computer is indicating that there's e-mail.

A PLAYER turns around and opens the e-mail as the poker game and the party go on behind him.

He hits a link and FACEMASH opens. He looks at it, then--

We should instantly know that this dorm room is different.
It’s more modern and with less character and history than the others.

A girl is at her computer and in the background is another girl we can’t quite make out who’s taking notes from a textbook.
GIRL
Oh shit.
(to the other GIRL)
Albright?

We rack focus to the studying girl and see that it's ERICA.

GIRL (CONT'D)
He blogged about you.

ERICA looks at her for a moment, then gets up to look at her roommates computer--

GIRL (CONT'D)
No you don't want to read it.

ERICA ignores her roommate. We see her mortification as she reads, and at that moment THREE GUYS appear in her open doorway--- one of them wearing a padded bra over his Boston University sweatshirt.

GUY
Erica. They lift, separate and support.
Thanks for the tip.

GIRL
Get the fuck out.

I wonder if maybe you shouldn't shut it down before you get into trouble.

MARK ignores him as we pre-lap a PHONE RINGING and

At 4 in the morning?

INTERCUT WITH:

INT. HARVARD COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE - SAME TIME

A tired GRAD STUDENT who spends the night monitoring the campus computer system is looking at his computer.

GRAD STUDENT
(into phone)
Well there's a very unusual amount of traffic coming out of Kirkland House.

COX
You're saying it's unusual for 4 in the morning?

GRAD STUDENT
I'm saying it would be unusual for Mother's Day.

COX
Alright.

COX hangs up the phone.

COX (CONT'D)
I have to go in.

COX'S WIFE
What's going on?
COX
Harvard's computer system's about to crash.

Everyone is frozen silent for a moment...

EDUARDO
You don't think--

MARK
I do.

EDUARDO
Go see if it's everybody.

DUSTIN, CHRIS and EDUARDO head out of the room. MARK drains what's left of the vodka and lights a cigarette as the guys start coming back in the room.

DUSTIN Mine's down.

CHRIS
My computer's frozen.

EDUARDO
I mean...unless it's a coincidence I think this is us.

MARK
It's not a coincidence.

EDUARDO (bad)
Holy shit.

MARK
(good) Yeah,

CUT TO:

INT. DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

It's three years later and MARK is sitting with his LAWYERS at a large conference table.
MARK is wearing a hoodie, sweatpants and Adidas flip-flops—a personal uniform that we’ll come to understand. And while it may take us a while to notice it, MARK’s a different person in these flash-forward scenes. Still tortured and complicated, but comfortable now with his own power.

His lawyer is SY, who’s accompanied by some junior associates, one of whom—a pleasant, pretty and professional young contemporary of Mark’s named MARYLIN, we’ll get to know.

On the other side are EDUARDO and his lawyer, GRETCHEN, also accompanied by some associates. A STENOGRAPHER is typing the record.

The room is glass on two sides and through the windows we can see the behemoths of Silicon Valley—Oracle, SunMicrosystems, Google, etc.

GRETCHEN is taking MARK’s deposition.

GRETCHEN
So you were called in front of the Ad Board.

MARK
That’s not what happened.

GRETCHEN
You weren’t called in front of the Administrative Board?

MARK
No, back, I mean—that’s—back at the bar with Erica Albright. She said all that? That I said that stuff to her?

GRETCHEN
I was reading from the transcript of her deposition so—

MARK
Why would you even need to depose her?

GRETCHEN
That’s really for us to—

MARK
You think if I know she can make me look like a jerk I’ll be more likely—

SY
Mark—

MARK —to settle, right?
SY
Why don’t we stretch our legs a minute, can we do that? It’s been almost three hours and frankly you did spend an awful lot of time embarrassing Mr. Zuckerberg with the girl’s testimony in the bar.

MARK
I’m not embarrassed, it’s just that she made a lot of that up.

GRETCHEN
She was under oath.

MARK
Then I guess that would be the first time somebody’s lied under oath.

People are stretching and getting coffee and talking quietly. MARK stays in his seat.

MARYLIN, the attractive second year associate who’s on Mark’s legal team is still sitting too...about four seats down from Mark.

MARYLIN
Eight percent of the male population of Harvard had been on it within two hours?

MARK
(beat) Eighty.

MARYLIN
What?

MARK
Eighty percent of the male population.

MARYLIN
(pause—even) Wow.

CUT TO:

EXT. CHARLES RIVER – DAWN

The Harvard Crew is practicing on two-man sculls. There are three boats that are running roughly even with each other and the two-man crews are rowing with all they’ve got. We’re gliding along with them in the water—

CREW MEMBER (shouting)
Bring up the rate! 2 in 2! One..two—ANOTHER CREW MEMBER (DIFFERENT BOAT)

Power 10 in 21 In 21

A THIRD CREW MEMBER (DIFFERENT BOAT)

They had open water after a hundred meters. I don't think we're gonna catch 'em today.

And we PULL BACK TO REVEAL that there's a fourth boat which is already five boat lengths ahead of the other three.

The fourth boat is being crewed by CAMERON and TYLER WINKLEVOSS—identical twins who stepped out of an ad for Abercrombie and Fitch.

They know that the others aren't in their class and even though they're highly competitive athletes, they don't like showing anyone up, least of all their teammates.

CAMERON

Is there anyway to make this a fair fight?

TYLER

We could jump out and swim.

CAMERON

I think we'd have to jump out and drown.

TYLER

I'm not willing to do that.

CAMERON

What are we at three-quarter power? Let's drop down to a half.

TYLER

Or you could row forward and I could row backward.

CAMERON

I'd kick your ass.

TYLER

We're genetically identical, so biology and mathematics says we'd stay in one place not allowing for the current or the wind.

CAMERON

Just row the boat.
And the WINKLEVOSS twins kick into full gear and open up an even wider lead as we.

CUT TO:

INT. DINING HALL - MORNING

Two stacks of The Crimson, Harvard's student newspaper, get dropped on the floor as TYLER and CAMERON walk by—their trays loaded with mountains of eggs and pancakes and carbs.

Everyone knows and loves them in this 200 year old dining hall and they wave and shout to a few people and whisper to a couple of very pretty girls before taking a seat next to DIVYA NARENDRA, a nice looking Indian student whose face is in a copy of the Crimson.

CAMERON
What's up?

DIVYA
You guys hear about this?

CAMERON
What?

DIVYA
Two nights ago a sophomore at Kirkland crashed the computers.

CAMERON
Which computers?

DIVYA
All of them. He crashed the whole system.

TYLER picks up a copy of the Crimson and begins reading while his brother and DIVYA keep talking.

CAMERON How?

DIVYA
He set up a website where you vote on the hotness of female Harvard undergrads. What were we doing that none of us heard about this?

CAMERON
I don't know. Rowing, going to class, studying? How much activity was there on this thing that he crashed the-- Cam, this guy hacked into the facebooks of seven houses in two hours. He set up the whole site in one night while he was drunk.

CAMERON
22,000 hits?

TYLER
Yeah.

CAMERON
How do you know he was drunk?

TYLER
He was blogging simultaneously. Divya?

DIVYA
I'm way ahead of you.

TYLER
This is our guy.

INT. SECOND DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

It's Mark and his lawyers again but this time on the other side of the table are Tyler and Cameron, Divya and their lawyer, Gage, whose family had first-class seats on the Mayflower.

We'll be back and forth between the two deposition rooms a lot.

INT. ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING ROOM - DAY

Mark stands before a panel of administrators as well as Cox, the systems manager who was woken up in the opening sequence.

ADMINISTRATOR
Mr. Zuckerberg, this is an Administrative Board hearing.

(MORE) ADMINISTRATOR (CONT'D)
You're being accused of intentionally breaching security, violating copyrights and violating individual privacy by creating the website, WWW.FACEMASH.COM.
You're also charged with being in violation of the university's policy on distribution of digitized images. Before we begin with our questioning you're allowed to make a statement. Would you like to do so?

MARK
(beat) Uh...I've, you know, I've apologized in the Crimson to the ABHW, to Fuerza Latina and to any women at Harvard who might have been insulted as I take it they were by the things that have been said to me in the last week. As for any charges stemming from the breach of security, I believe I deserve some sort of recognition from this Ad Board.

ADMINISTRATOR
(pause)
I'm sorry?

MARK
Yes.

ADMINISTRATOR
I don't understand.

MARK
Which part?

ADMINISTRATOR
You believe you deserve recognition?

MARK
I pointed out some pretty gaping holes in your system.

COX
Excuse me, may I?

ADMINISTRATOR
Yes.

COX
Mr. Zuckerberg, I'm in charge of security for all computers on the Harvard system.
I can assure you of its sophistication and in fact it was that level of sophistication that led us to you in less four hours.
MARK
Four hours?

COX
Yes sir.

MARK
That would be impressive except the algorithm I used was written on my dorm room window. Keep up the great work.

INT. CORRIDOR - DAY

As the heavy wooden door from the hearing slams shut behind MARK. EDUARDO is waiting for him.

EDUARDO
Well?

MARK
Six months academic probation.

They walk out onto--

EXT. QUAD - CONTINUOUS

EDUARDO
It could have been worse.

MARK
No it couldn’t. They made me apologize.

EDUARDO
To who?

MARK
To them. Over and over.

EDUARDO
It’s alright.

MARK
No.

EDUARDO
It’s okay. You’re fine.

MARK
(pause)
I shouldn’t have said the thing about the farm animals. That was stupid. Everybody’s mad at me now.
EDUARDO

Maybe, but at least everybody knows you now.

CUT TO:

INT. LECTURE HALL - DAY

MARK is in his Operating Systems class. This is considered the hardest class at Harvard and MARK is one of the 50 students with their laptops open as the professor takes them through an impossibly difficult lesson.

PROFESSOR

So let's look at a sample problem:
Suppose we're given a computer with a 16-bit virtual address and a page size of 256 bytes.

A GIRL scribbles something on a piece of paper. Then hands it to the student next to her and nods that it should be passed over to MARK. While that's happening--

PROFESSOR (CONT'D)
The system uses one-level page tables, which start at address 0x0400. Maybe you want to have DMA on your 16-bit system, who knows? The first few pages are reserved for hardware flags, etc.

MARK opens the note. It reads "Asshole".
He looks over and sees a couple of GIRLS looking at him with contempt.

PROFESSOR (CONT'D)
Assume page table entries have eight status bits.

MARK closes his laptop, gets up and starts to head out of the hall.

PROFESSOR (CONT'D)
The eight status bits would be--
(re: MARK)
And I see we have our first surrender.
Don't worry, Mr. Zuckerberg, brighter men than you have tried and failed at this class.

MARK

1 valid bit, 1 modify bit, 1 reference bit and 5 permission bits.
MARK walks out of the lecture hall and we

EXT. ACADEMIC BUILDING - DAY
As MARK comes out and heads onto the quad--

CAMERON (OS)
(calling)
Mark?

CAMERON and TYLER have been waiting by the entrance.

CAMERON (CONT'D)
Are you Mark?

MARK
Yeah.

CAMERON
I'm Cameron Winklevoss.

MARK
Hi.

TYLER
Tyler Winklevoss.

MARK
(beat)
Are you guys related?

CAMERON
Good.

TYLER
That's funny.

CAMERON
We've never heard that before.

MARK
Did I insult your girlfriends? What can I do for you?

CAMERON
No, you didn't insult our girl--
(to TYLER)
Actually, I don't know.

TYLER
(to CAMERON)
We never asked.

CAMERON
We should do that.
TYLER

Yeah.

CAMERON

No, we have an idea we want to talk to you about. Do you have a minute?

MARK

(pause)

You guys look like athletes.

CAMERON

We are.

MARK

What do you do?

TYLER

We row crew.

MARK

(pause--then smiles a little)

Yeah, I’ve got a minute.

CUT TO:

INT. PORCELLIAN CLUB - DAY

The most exclusive of all the final clubs. DIVYA is sitting in the main living room with a textbook open as the heavy wooden door opens and MARK is escorted in by TYLER and CAMERON.

TYLER

You ever been in the Porcellian?

MARK

No.

TYLER

We can’t take you past the living room but we can sit here and talk.

DIVYA

Hi.

MARK is stealing a glance around the room...

CAMERON

Mark? This is Divya Narendra, our partner.

Hi.

MARK
DIVYA
We were really impressed with Facemash and then we checked you out and you also built CourseMatch.

MARK is looking at the framed black and white group pictures on the wall of old Porcellian classes. He sees a pretty co-ed on the couch with her legs stretched over her boyfriend while they study.

DIVYA (CONT’D)
Mark?

MARK
Yeah.

CAMERON
CourseMatch. You go online, you get to see what courses your friends are taking?

MARK
Yeah.

DIVYA
And you invented something in high school.

MARK
An app for an MP3 player that recognizes your taste in music.

DIVYA
Anybody try to buy it?

MARK Microsoft.

DIVYA
How much did they pay?

MARK
I didn’t sell it. I uploaded it for free.

DIVYA
For free?

MARK
Yeah.

DIVYA
Why?

MARK gives a short shrug that says both “I don’t know” and “Fuck you” at the same time.
CAMERON
Well we've been working for a while on an idea. It's called HarvardConnection. You create your own page. Picture, bio, interests, friends.

TYLER
People can see your bio and request to be your--

MARK
Yeah. How's this different from MySpace or Friendster?

How?

MARK
Yeah.

TYLER
Harvard-dot-E-D-U.

CAMERON
Harvard.edu. The most prestigious e-mail address in the country.

TYLER
This site would be based on the idea that girls want to meet guys who go to Harvard. The difference between what we're talking about and MySpace, Friendster--

MARK
--is exclusivity.

(beat)

Right?

TYLER

Yes.

CAMERON
We want you to be an equal partner. Our first programmer graduated and went to work at Google. Our second programmer just got overwhelmed with school work. We want you to write the code and build the site and we'll provide--

MARK

I'm in.

It was called TheFacebook back then.

INT. SECOND DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

GAGE

This doesn't need to be that difficult.
MARK
I'm in the middle of two different lawsuits.

GAGE
Did you answer affirmatively? When Tyler and Cameron Winklevoss and Divya Narendra asked you to build HarvardConnection, did you say yes?

MARK
I said I'd help.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

GRETCHE
When did you approach Mr. Saverin with the idea for TheFacebook?

MARK
I wouldn't say I approached him.

GRETCHE
Sy?

SY
You can answer the question.

MARK
It was at a party at Alpha Epsilon Pi.

GRETCHE
What's that?

MARK
The Jewish fraternity. It was Caribbean Night.

CUT TO:

INT. LARGE LECTURE HALL - NIGHT

The lecture hall has been converted into "Alpha Epsilon Pi Caribbean Night, 2003" and the party is about as lame as it sounds. What's important is that this couldn't be less like the final club party we saw at the beginning if they were playing Pin the Tail on the Donkey.

Some potted palm trees have brought in along with a steel drum set. The man playing the steel drum set has a yarmulke bobby pinned to his thinning hair. A table with a punch bowl and assorted cookies is nearby.
EDUARDO, in baggy cargo shorts and a Hawaiian shirt buttoned up to the top, is standing with a few similarly dressed friends, including DUSTIN MOSKOWITZ and CHRIS HUGHES, in the sparsely populated room. On the other side of the room are a few girls—all Asian. One of the girls is wearing a bikini over her clothes. A television monitor has been set up with a DVD running of Niagara Falls.

EDUARDO
It’s not that guys like me are generally attracted to Asian girls. It’s that Asian girls are generally attracted to guys like me.

DUSTIN
I’m developing an algorithm to define the connection between Jewish guys and Asian girls.

EDUARDO
I don’t think it’s that complicated. They’re hot, they’re smart, they’re not Jewish and they can’t dance.

CHRIS Mark’s here.

They see MARK come in and look around. EDUARDO waves him over...

EDUARDO
(calling)
Mark.

MARK sees EDUARDO and waves him over to where he is. He wants to talk privately.

EDUARDO (CONT’D)
I’ll be back in a minute.

EDUARDO joins MARK in the back of the room and they take up a spot next to a bay window that’s covered on the outside with ice.

MARK
I think I’ve come up with something.

EDUARDO
Hang on, I’ve gotta tell you something you’re not going to believe.

MARK
What?

EDUARDO
I got punched by the Phoenix.
MARK

(beat)
Are you kidding?

EDUARDO
No. I mean it's just the first of the four step process but they slipp'd the invitation under my door tonight. I go to the first punch party tomorrow and if they like me--

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO
--I get the second invitation and then the third and then who knows?

MARK
You got punched by the Phoenix.

EDUARDO
(pause)
It was, you know...I'm sure it was just a diversity thing. And I'm never gonna make it in, it was just a diversity thing. So I'll just ride that horse until--what did you want to talk about?
(pause)
Mark?

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO
You said you think you've come up with something.

It seems like MARK's just made a small decision in his head.

MARK
(pause)
Yeah. I think I've come up with something. Come outside.

EDUARDO
It's 20 degrees outside.

MARK
I don't want to stare at that loop of Niagara Falls which has absolutely nothing to do with the Caribbean.

CUT TO:
EXT. QUAD - NIGHT

MARK and EDUARDO come outside and are immediately met by the freezing cold air.

MARK
People came to Facemash in a stampede, right?

EDUARDO
Yeah.

MARK
It wasn’t because I put up pictures of hot girls. You can go anywhere on the internet and see pictures of hot girls.

EDUARDO
Yeah.

MARK
It was because I put up pictures of girls that people knew. So if people want to go on the internet and check out their friends, why can’t I build a website that offers that? An online community of friends. Pictures, profiles, whatever you can click into, visit, browse around. All from the privacy of your dorm room. I’m not talking about a dating site. I’m talking about taking the entire social structure of college and putting it online.

EDUARDO
I can’t feel my legs.

MARK
I know, I’m totally pumped about this. But Wardo--

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

EDUARDO

CUT BACK TO:

EXT. QUAD - NIGHT

EDUARDO
This is interesting.

MARK
Like our own Final Club except not only can we get into this one, we're the president.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

EDUARDO
I told him I thought it sounded great. I mean it did, it was a great idea. There was no reason to hack, people were going to put their own pictures up. What they were interested in, what they were looking for, what classes they were taking...and people had the ability to invite their friends to join. Or put a different way, not invite their friends to join. In a world where social structure is very important, that was sexy.

(beat)
It was a big project and he was going to have to write tens of thousands of lines of code so I wondered why he was coming to me and not his roommates. Dustin Moskowitz and Chris Hughes were programmers.

Gretchen, what's the relevancy?

This is discovery, I'm trying to discover.

They're suggesting I was jealous of Eduardo and began a plan to screw him out of the company.

GRETHEN
Were you?

SY Gretchen--
MARK
Jealous of Eduardo?

SY
Stop typing, we're off the record.

EDUARDO's in different clothes and being questioned by GAGE.

GAGE
We recognize that you're a plaintiff in one suit involving Facebook and a witness in another.

EDUARDO
Yes sir.

GAGE
At any time in the three weeks prior to Mark telling you his idea, did he mention Tyler Winklevoss, Cameron Winklevoss, Divya Narendra or HarvardConnection?

EDUARDO
Yes. He said they'd asked him to work on their site but that he'd looked at what they had and decided it wasn't worth his time. Uhh, he said even his most pathetic friends knew more about getting people interested in a website than these guys.

GAGE
"These guys" meaning my clients.
EDUARDO

Yes. He resented—Mark resented that they——that your clients, probably thought he would jump at the chance to rehabilitate his image after the Facemash thing but Mark didn’t want to rehabilitate anything. With Facemash he’d beaten the Harvard computers, he’d beaten the Ad
Board and he made the girls mad. Facemash did what he wanted it to do.

MARK kind of nods a little to himself. It should be noted that these depositions have an extra element of discomfort as everything is being said within a few feet of the people being talked about.

GAGE

Were you aware that while Mr. Zuckerberg was building TheFacebook he was also communicating with the plaintiffs?

EDUARDO

Not at the time I wasn’t. I am now.

GAGE

Were you aware that while Mr. Zuckerberg was building TheFacebook, he was leading the plaintiffs to believe he was building
Harvard Connection?

SY

I have some problems with that question.

EDUARDO

No I wasn’t.

MARK goes back to the profile page. There's a new area to be filled in...

MARK
"Relationship Status", "Interested In".

(beat)
These two things are what drive life at college. Are you having sex or aren't you. It's why people take certain classes, sit where they sit, go where they go, do what they do, and at its, um, center, you know, that's what the Facebook is gonna be about. People are gonna log on because after all the cake and watermelon there's a chance they're gonna-

EDUARDO
--meet a girl.

MARK
--get laid. Yes.

EDUARDO Really?

MARK
(beat)
And that's it.
EDUARDO
(beat)
What do you mean?

MARK
It's ready.

EDUARDO
It's ready?

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO Right now?

MARK
It's ready, that was it. And here's the masthead.

MARK hits another couple of keystrokes and the website's masthead comes up.

EDUARDO
You made a masthead.

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO
(reading)
"Eduardo Saverin, Co-Founder and CFO."

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO
You have no idea how much that's going to mean to my father.

MARK Sure I do.

EDUARDO
(pause)
When's it gonna go live?

MARK
Right now. Get your laptop out.

EDUARDO
Why do we need my laptop?

MARK
Because you've got e-mails for everyone at the Phoenix.
EDUARDO
(beat) I'm not sure if it's gonna be cool with them that I spammed their--

MARK
It's not spam.

EDUARDO
I didn't mean spam, it's not spam, it's just that--

MARK
If we send it to our friends it'll just bounce around the computer lab.

EDUARDO
I haven't gotten in yet.

MARK
These guys know people and these guys know girls. I need their e-mails.

EDUARDO
(beat) Sure.

EDUARDO takes out his laptop--

MARK
Let's start with the president.

EDUARDO
"Jabberwock12@Harvard E-D-U."

MARK
Like the Lewis Carroll?

EDUARDO
Yeah.

MARK opens up an e-mail and is writing a short message, then includes a link to the site--

MARK
These guys.

EDUARDO
I know.

MARK Think they're literary geniuses because the world's most obvious Lewis Carroll reference is in their--

EDUARDO
They're not so bad.
MARK
I'm just saying.

EDUARDO
You're right.

MARK
(done) Okay.

He hits "Send".

MARK (CONT'D)
The site's live.

EDUARDO
(pause)
You know what? Let's go get a drink and celebrate.

MARK is staring at the computer...

EDUARDO (CONT'D)
Mark?

MARK doesn't hear him. We just see MARK's head from the back and it's ever so slightly bobbing back and forth...

EDUARDO (CONT'D)
(pause)
Mark?
(beat)
Are you praying?

CUT TO:

INT. CAMPUS PUB - NIGHT

THE CROCODILLOS, Harvard's oldest male a Capella group, are singing at the front of the pub in their usual uniform of white tie and tails.

Incongruously, but with surprisingly nice results, the group is covering a song from The Backstreet Boys--"I Want it That Way"--and the pub full of students is loving it.

We find a table in the back where DIVYA is sitting with some of his friends who are having a nice time. DIVYA's got his laptop open.

MALE FRIEND
When did the Crocodillos start covering the Backstreet Boys? What happened to Cole Porter and Irving Berlin?
FEMALE FRIEND
It's a Valentine's theme. They're singing love songs.

MALE FRIEND
Good point, 'cause Cole Porter and Irving Berlin never wrote any love songs.

FEMALE FRIEND
Divya, what are you reading?

DIVYA
Seven different people spammed me the same link.

We see DIVYA click his mouse on the link--

FEMALE FRIEND
What is it?

DIVYA
(dryly)
I don't know, but I'm really hoping it's video of kittens that look like the Marx Brothers 'cause I can never get enough file footage on my computer of animals doing...

DIVYA trails off. We slowly PUSH IN on his face as the blood starts draining away...

MALE FRIEND
(pause) Div?

DIVYA
(beat)
I--uh...I have to go.

DIVYA shuts his laptop, grabs it off the table and starts to bolt out of the pub. His foot gets caught on a chair leg and he falls hard face-first to the floor.

DIVYA (CONT'D)
Shit.

He starts out again, then comes back for his coat, grabs it, starts out and falls down all over again.

Finally he's got it together and flies out of the pub and we CUT TO:

INT. BOATHOUSE - NIGHT

CAMERON and TYLER are rowing in a large practice tank—a simulator with a hull, oars and rowable water.
They're focused and charging away in perfect sync when the door at the end of the century-old boathouse opens and DIVYA charges in from the cold with his laptop and a copy of the Crimson in his hands.

DIVYA
(calling) Hey!

The twins are in the zone and don't pay any attention.

louder
Hey!

CAMERON
Not now, we've got another 5000 meters.

DIVYA
(calmlly)
Okay. I just wanted to let you know Zuckerberg stole our website.

TYLER stops rowing and then CAMERON. They look at DIVYA...

DIVYA (CONT'D)
Mark Zuckerberg stole our website. It's been live for over 36 hours.

CUT TO:

INT. CAMERON AND TYLER'S DORM ROOM - NIGHT

They're in gear. CAMERON's taken a quick shower but didn't dry off. He's in sweatpants with a towel over his shoulder, talking on the phone with his father and holding the Crimson. DIVYA's on his cell looking for MARK and TYLER, still in his practice clothes, has his desktop computer open to the Facebook and is studying it.

DIVYA
(into cell)
I left a message with his R.A., I left two, now I'm leaving one here.

CAMERON
(into phone)
I'm looking at the article in the Crimson.

DIVYA
(into cell)
Narendra.

CAMERON
(into phone)
Today's.
DIVYA
(into cell)
N-A-just tell him Divya, he knows who I am.
(clicks off phone and starts to dial another number) Asshole knows who I am.

CAMERON
(into phone)
It's titled, "Hundreds Register for New Facebook Website" and then the sub-headline is "Fademash creator seeks new reputation with latest online project."

DIVYA
(into cell)
It's me again. Can you try looking for his roommates? Their names are Chris Hughes and Dustin Moskowitz.

CAMERON
(into phone)
No it's today's paper, it went online yesterday morning around 10.

DIVYA
(into cell)
I don't have the slightest idea.

CAMERON
(into phone)
Mr. Hotchkiss.

DIVYA
(into cell)
Thank you.

CAMERON
(coversing the phone)
Ty, the lawyer's on the phone with dad.
(into phone)
I'm here with my brother, Tyler, and our partner, Divya.

TYLER
(reading off the computer)
"Welcome to the Facebook. The Facebook is an online directory that connects people through social networks. You must have a Harvard.edu address to register."

CAMERON
(into phone)
That's right.
DIVYA
(into cell)
I called earlier. I'm looking for Mark Zuckerberg.

CAMERON
(into phone)
Yes sir, he's quoted a couple of times. I can read—it says, "'Everyone's been talking a lot about a universal Facebook within Harvard,' he says"—he meaning Mark—"I think it's kind of silly that it would take the University a couple of years to get around to it. I can do it better than they can and I did in a week."

DIVYA
(into cell)
Could you leave word that Divya Narendra called; I appreciate it.

CAMERON
(into phone)
I know, that's how he talks.

DIVYA
(off another copy of the Crimson)
"As of yesterday evening, Zuckerberg said over 650 students had registered to use the Facebook.com. He said he anticipated that 900 students would have joined the site by this morning."

CAMERON
(into phone)
Yeah, Divya was just reading that he'd signed up 650 people on the first day.

TYLER
If I were a drug dealer I couldn't give free drugs to 650 people in one day.

DIVYA
And this kid doesn't have four friends.

CAMERON
(quieting them so he can hear)
Guys, please, for just one second.
(into phones)
That's what we'll do, Mr. Hotchkiss. We're gonna put it all together right now and e-mail it to you.
(listens)
You won't be able to get on the site yourself.
(beat—a little uncomfortable)
(MORE)
CAMERON (CONT'D)
Because you went to Ohio State. But we'll take care of everything and we'll talk to you first thing in the morning. This is a good guy--

DIVYA
(reacting)
Whoa! I

CAMERON
(into phone)
--and he's very bright and I'm sure he didn't mean to...do what he did.
(beat)
Thank you very much, and dad, we'll talk to you in the morning too. Thanks.

CAMERON hangs up.

DIVYA
This is a good guy?

CAMERON
We don't know that he's not a good guy.

DIVYA
We know that he took our idea and stole it. We know that he lied to our faces for a month and a half while he--

CAMERON
He didn't lie to our faces.

DIVYA
He never saw our faces! Fine, he lied to our e-mail accounts and he got himself a 42-day head start because he knows what apparently you don't which is that getting there first is everything!

CAMERON
I'm a competitive racer, Div, I don't think you need to school me on the importance of getting there first.

DIVYA
(beat)
Alright. That was your father's lawyer on the phone with you?

CAMERON
Yeah, well his in-house counsel. We're gonna send him everything and he'll look at it and if he thinks it's appropriate he'll send a cease and desist letter.
DIVYA
A cease and desist letter doesn’t have any teeth.

CAMERON
You think we should hire lawyers and sue him?

DIVYA
I think we should hire lawyers and have them beat him senseless with a crescent wrench.

TYLER
We don’t have to do that.

CAMERON
That’s right.

TYLER
We can do it ourselves.

CAMERON
Hey--

TYLER
I’m six-five, 220-pounds and there are two of me.

CAMERON
And I’m saying let’s calm down until we know what we’re talking about.

DIVYA
Just how much more information are you waiting for? We met with Mark three times, we exchanged 52 e-mails, we can prove that he looked at the code, he’d seen what Victor had already done and we talked at length about what we planned to do.

(pointing)
The page looks the same!

(then)
What is that on the bottom?

CAMERON
(he’s already seen it)
It says “A Mark Zuckerberg Production”.

DIVYA
On the home page?

CAMERON
On every page.
DIVYA
Hang on, 'cause I need a minute to let the classiness waft over me.

CAMERON

Look--

TYLER (calmly) Cam.

(he recites from the Crimson without having to read it)
They wrote, "Suckerberg said that he hoped the privacy options would help to restore his reputation following student outrage over Facemash.com".

(beat)
That's exactly what we said to him. He's telling us to go fuck ourselves. We know plenty of people at the Crimson. While we're waiting for dad's lawyer to look this over, we can at least--

CAMERON
No.

TYLER
--get something going in the paper so that people know--

CAMERON
What?

TYLER
That this thing is in dispute.

CAMERON
We're not starting a knife fight in the Crimson and we're not suing anybody.

DIVYA
Why not?

CAMERON wants to answer the question but doesn't...

DIVYA (CONT'D)

Why not?

CAMERON
(beat--referring to TYLER)
He'll say it's stupid.

TYLER Me?

CAMERON
Yeah.
DIVYA
Say it. Why not?

CAMERON
Because we're gentlemen of Harvard.
(beat)
This is Harvard. You don't plant stories and you don't sue people.
(beat)
That's why. There's a right way to do things.

DIVYA
(pause)
You thought he was going to be the only one who thought that was stupid?

CUT TO:

INT. SECOND DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

GAGE
During the time when you say you had this idea, did you know that Cameron and Tyler came from a family of means?

MARK
(pause)
A family of means?

GAGE
Did you know that his father was wealthy.

MARK
(pause)
I'm not sure why you're asking me that.

GAGE
It's not important that you be sure why
I'm asking you.

MARK
It's not important to you.

GAGE
(asking for help again)
Sy.

SY
(to MARK)
Did you know that they came from money?

MARK
I had no idea whether they came from money or not.
GAGE
In one of your e-mails to Mr. Narendra you reference Tate Winklevoss' consulting firm.

MARK
(beat)
If you say so.

GAGE
Tate Winklevoss founded the firm and its assets are in the hundreds of millions.

MARK
Or roughly the amount I paid in income tax last year, go on.

GAGE
You also knew that Cameron and Tyler were members of a Harvard final club called the Porcellian.

MARK
They made a point of pointing that out.

TYLER
Excuse us for inviting you in.

GAGE
(to TYLER)
Hey.
(to MARK)
So it's safe to say you were aware that my clients had money?

MARK
Yes.

GAGE
Let me tell you why I'm asking. I'm wondering why, if you needed a thousand dollars to start up your project, you didn't ask my clients for it. They'd demonstrated to you an interest in this kind of thing so--

MARK
From that you're deducing that I didn't go to them because I didn't want them to know what I was working on? I went to my best friend for the money because he's who I wanted to be partners with because of our similar vision and his superior business skills. Eduardo was president of the Harvard Investors Association and he was my best friend.
GAGE
Your best friend is suing you for 600-million dollars.

MARK
I hadn't heard, tell me more.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

SY
Eduardo, what happened after the initial launch?

GRETCHEL
I'm sorry, Sy, would you mind addressing him as Mr. Saverin?

SY
They're best friends, Gretchen.

GRETCHEL
Not anymore.

SY
We just went through this on the-- nevermind. Mr. Saverin, what happened after the initial--

EDUARDO
It exploded.

CUT TO:

INT. SECOND DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

DIVYA
Everyone on campus was using it. "Facebook me" was a common expression after two weeks.

SY And Mark?

DIVYA
Mark was the biggest thing on a campus that included 19 Nobel Laureates, 15 Pulitzer Prize winners, two future Olympians and a movie star.

SY
Who was the movie star?

DIVYA
(pause)
Does it matter?
CUT TO:

EXT./EST. AUDITORIUM - NIGHT

The lamps in Harvard Yard light the snow falling.

SPEAKER (VO)

The seminal event for me was when he was in Harvard Square and picked up a copy of Popular Electronics Magazine that had the MITS Altair Kit on the cover.

INT. AUDITORIUM - SAME TIME

There's a lower-level and a balcony and both are full.

MARK and EDUARDO are sitting in the second to last row of the balcony.

We'll hear the SPEAKER but we'll only get to see him in a slightly blurry image as our attention is on MARK and EDUARDO.

SPEAKER

And it was a clear day. And I was up in my Radcliffe dorm. And he brought that up there and said, "Look, it's going to happen without us. We've got to do it now." And so I said..."Okay."

He gets an appreciative LAUGH from the STUDENTS.

SPEAKER (CONT'D)

Now the starting of this industry was very humble indeed. The kit computer on the cover of that magazine--

We HEAR a little muffled giggling coming from the row behind MARK and EDUARDO. MARK is too into the speech to notice but the giggling registers as a slight annoyance on EDUARDO's face.

SPEAKER (CONT'D)

--had an 8080 processor in it, and you had to assemble it yourself and it came with 256K of memory.

EDUARDO hears the giggling again and turns around.

In the row behind them and a few seats over are two beautiful Asian students--ALICE and JENNY. They're a little overly made-up for a lecture. JENNY, the one sitting closest to EDUARDO, is wearing a short skirt with a white shirt open one button too far down the front and we can see a hint of the red bra she's wearing underneath.
She leans forward and whispers to EDUARDO--

JENNY
(whispering)
Your friend--isn't that Mark Zuckerberg?

EDUARDO
(beat)
You know Mark?

JENNY
Didn't he make the Facebook?

EDUARDO smiles a little...this has just never happened--

EDUARDO
Yeah. Both of us. It's mine and his. It's ours--we're--yes.

JENNY
(still whispering)
Way cool. I'm Jenny. This is Alice.

EDUARDO can't help noticing--just because it's in his line of sight--that down the row from the girls, someone else is pointing at them and whispering to a friend.

Then back to the girls--

EDUARDO
(whispering)
Very nice to meet you.

JENNY
(whispering)
Facebook me when you get home. Maybe we can all go out for a drink later.

EDUARDO
(whispering)
Certainly. I'll certainly--absolutely I will do that.

EDUARDO turns back to the speaker, who MARK hasn't taken his eyes off of--

SPEAKER
There were a set of machines that came after that. The TRS-80, Apple II, Commodore Pet--

CUT TO:
EXT. AUDITORIUM - NIGHT

As the CROWD from the lecture spills out onto the snowy quad, EDUARDO—always in his suit—is buttoning up his overcoat as he walks and MARK zips up his hoodie.

    EDUARDO
    She said “Facebook me” and we can all have a drink later. Which is stunningly great for two reasons. One, she said “Facebook me”. Right? And the other is that, you know—

    MARK
    They want to have drinks later.

    EDUARDO
    Yes! Have you ever heard so many different good things packed into one ordinary-sized sentence?

A group of guys hustle up to MARK and EDUARDO—

    STUART
    Excuse me. Mark?

    MARK
    Yeah.

    STUART
    I’m Stuart Singer. I’m in your O.S. lab.

    MARK Sure.

    STUART
    Awesome job with the Facebook.

    VIKRAM Awesome job.

    MARK Thanks.

    BOB I’m Bob.

    MARK
    How you doin’.

    BOB
    You know, I could swear he was looking at you when he said the next Bill Gates could be right in this room.

    MARK
    I doubt it.
BOB
I showed up late, I don't even know who he was.

MARK
(beat)
It was Bill Gates.

BOB
Oh shit, that makes sense.

As MARK and EDUARDO walk on, we leave STUART, VIKRAM and BOB in the background—with STUART and VIKRAM admonishing BOB with--

STUART/VIKRAM [to BOB]
Are you a moron? Are you medically stupid? You can't recognize Bill Gates when he's standing in front of you for an hour? Mark Zuckerberg now thinks we got into Harvard on a dimwit scholarship. I'm gonna get a Glock .39 and I'm going to kill you. I'm actually going to kill you. Etc.

CUT TO:

INT. MARK'S DORM ROOM - NIGHT

As the door opens and MARK and EDUARDO come into the overheated warmth of the room.

EDUARDO
It's time to monetize the thing.

MARK
Those Asian girls were cute. What were their names?

EDUARDO
Did you hear what I said?

MARK When?

EDUARDO
I said it's time to monetize the site.

MARK
What does that mean?

EDUARDO
I mean it's time for the website to generate revenue.
MARK
No I know what the word means. I'm asking how do you want to do it?

EDUARDO
Advertising.

MARK
No. What were their names?

EDUARDO
We've got 4000 members.

MARK
'Cause the Facebook is cool. If we start installing pop-ups for Mountain Dew it's not gonna--

EDUARDO
Well I wasn't thinking it would be Mountain Dew but at some point--and I'm speaking as the business end of the company--the site--

MARK
We don't even know what it is yet. We don't know what it is, what it can be, what it will be. We know it's cool, that's a priceless asset and we're not giving it up.

EDUARDO is sitting at MARK's desk and he's seen something sitting on top of a pile of books...

EDUARDO
Mark, what is this?

MARK
What.

EDUARDO holds up a letter that's on a lawyer's stationary.

EDUARDO
This.

MARK
I think it's called a cease and desist letter. What were their names?

EDUARDO Who?

MARK
The girls.

EDUARDO's speed reading the letter.
EDUARDO
When did you get this?

MARK
About 10 days ago. Right after we launched the site.

EDUARDO
Jesus Christ.

MARK
I liked the shorter one.

EDUARDO
They're saying--the Winklevoss twins are saying you stole their idea.

MARK
I find that to be mildly annoying.

EDUARDO
They find it to be property theft. Why--

MARK
Look--

EDUARDO
--why didn't you show this to me?

MARK
It was addressed to me.

EDUARDO
They're saying we stole the Facebook from Divya Narendra and the Wink--

MARK
I know what it says.

EDUARDO
(pause)
Did we?

MARK
What?

EDUARDO
Please don't screw around with me now.

MARK
I'm not.

EDUARDO
Look at me.

MARK
What are you, my mother?
EDUARDO
The letter says we could face legal action.

MARK
No, it says I could face legal action.

EDUARDO
It's from a lawyer, Mark. They must feel they have some grounds for--

MARK
The lawyer is their father's house counsel, I checked it out, they're not, you know--

EDUARDO
Do they have grounds?

MARK
Yes, the grounds are the Facebook is cool and popular and sexy and HarvardConnexion is lame. I didn't use any of their code, I didn't use anything. A guy who builds a really nice chair doesn't owe money to everyone who's ever built a chair. They came to me with an idea, I had a better one.

EDUARDO
Why didn't you show me the letter?

MARK
I didn't think it was a big deal.

EDUARDO
If there's something wrong—if there's ever anything wrong—you can tell me. I'm the guy who can help.

(pause)
Is there anything you need to tell me?

MARK
No.

EDUARDO
What are we doing about this?

MARK
I went to a 3-L at Student Legal Services and he told me to write them back.

EDUARDO
What did you say?

I'd raised concerns before.

GAGE

Fellas.
(back to MARK)
I'm talking about at the meeting in January to which this letter is referring.

MARK
Yeah.

GAGE
Let me re-phrase this. You sent my clients 32 e-mails. In the first 31, you didn't raise any concerns.

MARK
(beat)
Is that a question?
GAGE
In the 32nd e-mail you raised concerns about the site’s functionality. Were you leading them on for six weeks?

MARK
No.

GAGE
Why hadn’t you raised any of these--

MARK
(quietly)
It’s snowing.

GAGE
I’m sorry?

MARK
It just started snowing.

GAGE
Mr. Zuckerberg, do I have your full attention?

MARK
No.

GAGE
(beat)
Do you think I deserve it?

MARK
What.

GAGE
Do you think I deserve your full attention?

MARK
I had to swear an oath before we began the deposition phase and I don’t want to get arrested for perjury so I have a legal obligation to say no.

GAGE
Okay. "No" you don’t think I deserve your attention.

MARK
I think if your clients want to stand on my shoulders and call themselves tall they have a right to give it a try. But there’s no requirement that I enjoy being here listening to people lie. You have part of my attention--the minimum amount needed.

(MORE)
MARK (CONT'D)
The rest of my attention is back at the offices of Facebook where my employees and I are doing things that no one in this room, including and especially your

GAGE just looks casually at MARK. MARK doesn’t meet his gaze,

And then one of the wooden stall doors flies open and EDUARDO is shoved in, followed by JENNY, who did the shoving. She’s all over him as she presses him back against the divider.

EDUARDO’s hands are sliding under JENNY’S white shirt and finding the red bra when they hear a noise.

Someone’s gone into the next stall.

EDUARDO

(whispering) Shit.
JENNY

(whispering)
I don't care.

JENNY keeps him pinned against the divider as she reaches down and unbuttons his belt.

EDUARDO

(quiedy--nervous).
Oh God.

JENNY

(whispering)
That's right.

And then he hears another noise from the stall next door. A thump against the divider. JENNY's got his fly unzipped.

EDUARDO looks down at the space between the stalls. He sees a pair of Adidas flip-flops.

Then the sound of moaning. Before EDUARDO has time to say anything, JENNY pulls her shirt open, revealing the red bra, and puts her hand down his pants as we Sweet.

The guy goes off...

Mark.

We have groupies.

MARK can't help a smile. Then he sees something...

MARK

I'll be right back.

EDUARDO

Where you going?
MARK makes his way through the crowd toward a round booth. A girl is sitting there and even though her back is to MARK he can recognize her. She’s with a girlfriend and three guys.

When he makes it to the booth he says--

MARK

Erica?

ERICA, from the opening scene, turns her head and looks up to see MARK. She’s looking sexy for her Friday night on the town and the three guys she’s with are studs. A few more friends of theirs are standing around at the edges of the booth.

ERICA

(pause)
Hi Mark.

MARK

I saw you from over there. I didn’t know you came to this club a lot.

ERICA

It’s my first time.

MARK

Mine too. It’s not bad. It’s not great. The music’s kind of lame. Could I talk to you alone for a second?

ERICA

I think I’m good right here.

MARK

Okay.

MARK is aware of everyone else around the booth.

You called me a bitch on the internet, Mark.

MARK

I’m really sorry about that.
ERICA
On the internet.

MARK
That's why I came over.

ERICA
Comparing women to farm animals?

MARK
I didn't end up doing that.

ERICA
It didn't stop you from writing it. As if every thought that tumbles through your head is so clever it would be a crime for it not to be published. The internet's not written in pencil. Mark, it's written in ink and you published that Erica Albright was a bitch.

(breat)
Right before you made some ignorant crack about my family's name, published my bra size and threw rated women based on their hotness. Why don't you say it to me now, why don't you say it to my face?

MARK
I don't want to.

REGGIE (A FRIEND OF ERICA'S)
Erica, is there a problem?

ERICA
No, there's no problem.

.. (pause)
You're not a real person, Mark. You write your bullshit from a dark room because you're a failure at human contact. I liked you and I was nice to you.

MARK
(pause)
I came over to say I was sorry for all that and to see if there was any chance--

ERICA
I don't want to be rude to my friends, I should be talking to them.

MARK
Okay.

ERICA
Hey Mark. A year from now you won't remember this conversation and you won't remember me.
MARK
I think you’re wrong.

ERICA
Well...listen, good luck with your video game.

It was an honest mistake on ERICA’s part but a kidney punch to MARK.

MARK
(beat) Okay.

MARK turns and goes and sees that EDUARDO has been standing at and watching from a distance with JENNY.

EDUARDO
That was cool, you did good. You talked to her, that was the right thing to do.
(beat)
It was good, Mark.

MARK
(ignoring him)
We have to expand.

EDUARDO
(over the music) What?

MARK
We have to expand.

And MARK heads out the door.

EDUARDO watches MARK and then looks back at the girls and answers the un-asked question--

EDUARDO
(beat)
I don’t know.

ALICE
Is he mad about something?

CUT TO:

INT. MARK’S DORM ROOM – NIGHT

The door closes behind DUSTIN MOSKOWITZ and CHRIS HUGHES. MARK and EDUARDO are waiting and JENNY and ALICE are sitting on the bed. Everyone’s got a beer.

Once the door is closed--
MARK
We're expanding the Facebook to Yale and Columbia. Dustin, I want you to share the coding work with me. Chris, you're going to be in charge of publicity and outreach. You can start by getting a story about the expansion in the B.U. student newspaper.

CHRIS
They hate doing stories about Harvard.

MARK
Somebody at the newspaper will be a computer science major and they will have heard of me. Tell 'em Mark Zuckerberg will do 10 hours of free programming for them.

EDUARDO
Why do you want a story in the B.U.?

MARK
Because I do. Here's the business arrangement. Eduardo's CFO and owns 30% of the company. Dustin's Vice President and Head of Programming and his 5% of the company will come from my end. Chris is Director of Publicity and his compensation will depend on the amount of work he ends up doing. Any questions?

DUSTIN
Who are the girls?

EDUARDO
Jenny and Alice.

Hi.

DUSTIN Hi.

Hi.

JENNY
Hello.

ALICE Hi.

CHRIS Hi.

JENNY
Is there anything we can do?

MARK
No. That's it. Yale and Columbia, let's go.
EDUARDO
And Stanford.

MARK
What?

EDUARDO
Stanford. It's time for them to see this in Palo Alto.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

MARK is sitting alone in the now empty room. There's a computer on a table in the corner and MARK makes a few keystrokes and then reads the screen.

MARYLIN, the young lawyer we met early on, comes in with a plastic salad container in her hand and sits at the far end of the table from MARK, who doesn't acknowledge her.

MARYLIN
(after a moment)
You don't want any lunch?

MARK
(beat)
No.

MARYLIN
You're welcome to some of my salad.

MARK
No thank you.

MARYLIN
I know this must be hard.

MARK
Who are you?

MARYLIN
I'm Marylin Delpy, I introduced myself this morning.

MARK
I mean what do you do?

MARYLIN
I'm a second year associate at the firm. My boss wanted me to sit in on the deposition phase.

MARK nods...
MARYLIN (CONT’D)
What are you doing?

MARK
Checking in to see how it’s going in Bosnia.

MARYLIN Bosnia?

MARK nods...

MARYLIN (CONT’D)
They don’t have roads but they have Facebook?

MARK nods...

MARYLIN (CONT’D)
You really hate the Winklevoss twins, don’t you.

MARK
I don’t hate anybody.
(pause)
The Winklevi aren’t suing me for intellectual property theft. They’re suing me because for the first time in their lives the world didn’t work the way it was supposed to for them.

CUT TO:

INT. TYLER AND CAMERON’S DORM ROOM - NIGHT

TYLER and CAMERON are both studying when DIVYA busts in.

DIVYA
He’s expanding.

TYLER
What?

DIVYA
He’s expanding to Yale, Columbia and Stanford, it’ll be in the Crimson tomorrow.

TYLER
(beat) Really.

DIVYA
Yeah.
TYLER
So that Cease and Desist letter really scared the shit out of him, huh?

DIVYA
I want to hire a lawyer to file for injunctive relief and get this website taken down now!

CAMERON
Look--

DIVYA
Every minute it's up, Harvard Connection becomes less valuable. I want an injunction, I want damages, punitive relief and I want him dead.

CAMERON
I want those things too!

DIVYA
Then why aren't we doing anything about it?! Because we're gentlemen of Harvard?!

CAMERON
Because you're not thinking about how it's going to look.

DIVYA
How's it going to look?

CAMERON
Like my brother and I are dressed in skeleton costumes chasing the Karate Kid around a high school gym.

DIVYA
He violated Massachusetts state law. Then when he goes to Connecticut, New York and California he'll have violated federal law. And by the way, he's violated Harvard law.

CAMERON
There's no such thing as Harvard Law.

TYLER
(pause--realizing)
Wait. Yes there is.
(beat)
Cam, there is.

TYLER goes to the bookshelf and pulls down a manual.
TYLER (CONT'D)
Harvard Student Handbook. Every freshman is issued this book. Somewhere in here it says--

CAMERON
(eureka)
--you can't steal from another student. This is what we needed.

DIVYA
You think campus security is going to arrest him for copyright violation?

CAMERON
We're going to meet with the president.

DIVYA
You can't get a meeting with Larry Summers.

CAMERON
My brother and I pay tuition at this school, we carry a 3.9 GPA at this school, we've won trophies for this school and we'll be rowing in the Olympics for this school. I want a damn meeting with the president of this school.
(pause)
Why Stanford?

DIVYA
Why do you think?

CUT TO:

INT. A GIRL'S COLLEGE APARTMENT (PALO ALTO) - MORNING

A pretty 20 year-old co-ed, AMY, pulls a curtain open and the darkened room immediately fills with un-welcomed sunlight.

AMY
You don't know my name, do you?

AMY's wearing nothing but a Stanford sweatshirt and talking to a skinny 22 year-old guy who's lying on her futon. There's other evidence on the walls that we're at Stanford University. There are also pieces of AMY's clothing strewn about.

The young man on the futon is SEAN PARKER.

SEAN
Is that something that's important to you?
AMY
Yes.

SEAN
If I say your name will you stop the enhanced interrogation techniques?

AMY
Yes.

SEAN
Amy.

AMY
Nice. What's my major?

SEAN
(pause)
Trombone.

AMY Really?

SEAN
I remember something about a trombone.

AMY
That was the beer bong. Tu fais l'amour à la jolie fille et la mets de côté.

SEAN
French! Your major is French.

AMY
Oui. And what's yours?

SEAN
My major?

AMY
Yes.

SEAN
I don't have one.

AMY
You haven't declared?

SEAN
I don't go to school here.

AMY
You're kidding?

SEAN
No.
Where do you go to school?

Grover Cleveland Elementary.

Seriously, you’re not like 15 years old or anything are you?

No, I’m 22.

You’re not like 15 years--

No.

Good.

So what do you do?

I’m an entrepreneur.

You’re unemployed.

I wouldn’t say that.

What would you say?

That I’m an entrepreneur.

What was your latest preneur?

Well...I founded an internet company that let college kids download and share music for free.

Kind of like Napster?

No, exactly like Napster.

What do you mean?
SEAN
I founded Napster.

AMY
Sean Parker founded Napster.

SEAN
Nice to meet you.

AMY
(pause)
You're Sean-Parker?

SEAN
Ah, you see, the shoe's on the other, uh, table which has turned.

AMY
I just slept with Sean Parker?

SEAN
All night long, Sister Souljah.

AMY
You're a millionaire.

SEAN
Not technically.

AMY
What are you?

SEAN Technically?

AMY
Yeah.

SEAN
Broke. There's not a lot of money in free music. Even less when you're being sued by everyone who's ever been invited to the Grammys.

AMY
I think you're cool.

SEAN
Me too.

AMY
I have to hop in the shower and get ready for class. There's juice or anything else you can find. Help yourself.

SEAN
You mind if I check my e-mail?
AMY

Go ahead.

AMY heads into the bathroom but leaves the door a little ajar.

SEAN steps over to AMY's pink laptop and hits a key to wake it out of sleep mode.

The shower starts running in the bathroom.

The laptop springs to life and is open to something SEAN's never seen before—a Facebook page.

He sees AMY's picture and a short profile: Her major at Stanford, courses she's taking, books she likes, clubs she's a member of...

SEAN

(calling)

Amy?

She can't hear him in the shower.

SEAN explores around a little more. He knows his way around a computer. He sees her "friends". Friend after friend after friend.

SEAN (CONT'D)

(almost a whisper)

Jesus.

He gets up and goes to the bathroom door--

SEAN (CONT'D)

Amy?

AMY

(calling back)

Yeah!

SEAN

Can you come out here?

AMY

Just a second.

SEAN

There's a fire, Amy.

AMY

What?!

AMY grabs a towel and jumps out of the shower--

AMY (CONT'D)

Where?!
SEAN Okay, there isn't a fire, but I need to ask you something.

AMY
Are you kidding?!

SEAN
No.

AMY
I could have been killed!

SEAN How?

AMY
(beat)
What do you need to ask me?

SEAN
I went to check my e-mail and there's a website open on your computer.

AMY
Yeah. After you went unconscious last night I went on the Facebook for a while.

SEAN
What's that?

AMY
The Facebook? It started at Harvard and Stanford's had it for about two weeks and it's awesome except it's addictive.
Seriously, I'm on the thing five times a day, all my friends are.

SEAN
You mind if I grab a piece of paper and a pen?

AMY
What's wrong?

SEAN
Absolutely nothing. It's beautiful.

AMY
What are you talking about?

SEAN
I need to find...

SEAN scrolls down to the bottom of the page where it says "A Mark Zuckerberg Production"
SEAN (CONT'D)
...Mark Zuckerberg.

CUT TO:

INT. LARRY SUMMERS' OUTER OFFICE - DAY

CAMERON and TYLER, in dark suits, are waiting to see the president of Harvard.

The President's office is in one of the two oldest university buildings in the country, and the SECRETARY sitting at the desk is even older. You get the sense that she thinks Harvard would be a better place if it weren't for all these students.

She looks at them and the boys give her a polite smile and a small nod before she goes back to her work.

CAMERON
(just making small talk)
I've never been in this building.

SECRETARY
(without really looking up)
This building is a hundred years older than the country it's in.

CAMERON
(that's interesting)
Hm.

SECRETARY
So do be careful.

TYLER
We're just sitting in the chairs.

SECRETARY
(into phone)
Yes.
(into phone)
Very good.

She hangs up the phone.

SECRETARY (CONT'D)
You can go in now.

She points to a door and CAMERON and TYLER get up, quickly straighten themselves, and walk into

INT. SUMMERS' OFFICE - CONTINUOUS

LARRY SUMMERS, a large man, is on the phone at his desk in his well-appointed office. A fire crackles in the sitting area and a 40-ish African-American woman, ANNE, in a pants suit is nearby going over some papers.
SUMMERS waves the boys in--

SUMMERS
(into phone)
That's just their own stupidity, I should have been there.
(onto phone)
Darkness is the absence of light and stupidity in that instance was the absence of me.

SUMMERS motions for them to sit and they do. They take in some of the photographs around the room--SUMMERS with BILL CLINTON, etc.

SUMMERS (CONT'D)
(onto phone)
Catherine, I have students in my office now.
(onto phone)
Students.
(onto phone)
Undergrads.
(onto phone)
I don’t know, from the looks of it I think they want to sell me sets of identical Brooks Brothers suits. We’ll speak later.

SUMMERS hangs up the phone--

SUMMERS (CONT'D)
Good morning.

CAMERON
Good morning, sir. I'm Cameron Winklevoss and this is my brother, Tyler.

CAMERON is extending his hand but instead of taking it, SUMMERS reaches to the top of a pile of papers and pulls a ten-page letter off the top.

SUMMERS
Why are you here?

There's silence while SUMMERS appears to read over the letter...

SUMMERS (CONT'D)
That wasn't rhetorical.

CAMERON
I'm sorry, I thought you were reading the letter.

SUMMERS
I've read the letter.
CAMERON
Well I think it's pretty self-explanatory. We had an idea for a website called HarvardConnection—we've since changed the name to ConnectU—and Mark Zuckerberg stole that idea and--

SUMMERS
What do you want me to do about it?

CAMERON points to a row of Harvard Student Handbooks on the bookshelf behind SUMMERS.

CAMERON
Well sir, in The Harvard Student Handbook, which is distributed to each freshman—under the heading "Standards of Conduct in the Harvard Community" and the sub-heading, "Honesty"--

SUMMERS
Oh dear God.

CAMERON
--it says, "The College expects that all students will be honest and forthcoming in their dealings with members of this community. All students are required to respect private and public ownership. Instances of theft, misappropriation or unauthorised use of or damage to property or materials--"

SUMMERS
Excuse me. Anne?

ANN\nYes sir.

SUMMERS
Punch me in the face.
        (beat--then to CAMERON)
Go ahead:

CAMERON
(beat)
--will result in disciplinary action, including the requirement to withdraw from the College." That's what it says in the handbook.

SUMMERS
When did you memorize that?

TYLER
(a little frustrated with this bullshit)
(MORE)
TYLER (CONT'D)
Sir, it's against University rules to steal from another student, plain and simple.

SUMMERS
You've spoken to your R.A.?

CAMERON
Yes sir, and the R.A. made a recommendation to the Ad Board but the Ad Board won't hear us.

SUMMERS
Have you tried dealing with Mr. Zuckerberg directly?

CAMERON
Mr. Zuckerberg hasn't responded to any of our e-mails or phone calls for the last two weeks. He doesn't answer when we knock on his door at Kirkland and the closest we've come to talking face to face is when I saw him on the quad and chased him through Harvard Square.

SUMMERS
You chased him?

CAMERON
(beat)
I saw him and I know he saw me and I started after him and he disappeared.

SUMMERS
You know he could have you arrested for harassment and attempted assault.

TYLER
(quietly)
This isn't happening.

SUMMERS
I don't see this as a University issue.

TYLER
Of course it's a University issue. There's a code of ethics and an honor code and he violated them both.

SUMMERS
You entered into a code of ethics with the university, not with each other.

TYLER
(beat)
I'm sorry President Summers, what you just said makes no sense to me at all.
SUMMERS
I'm devastated by that.

CAMERON
What my brother means is that if Mark Zuckerberg walked into our dorm room and stole our computer it would be a university issue, right?

SUMMERS
I really don't know. This office doesn't handle petty larceny and the only reason I agreed to see you--Anne, why did I agree to see them?

ANNE
Colleagues of their father.

SUMMERS
So you see?

TYLER
This isn't a petty larceny.

CAMERON
(calming) Ty--

TYLER
This idea is potentially worth millions of dollars.

SUMMERS
Millions of dollars?

CAMERON
Yes.

SUMMERS
You might be letting your imagination run away with you.

TYLER
With all due respect I don't think you're in any position to make that call.

SUMMERS
I was U.S. Treasury Secretary, I'm in some position to make that call.

TYLER
Letting our imaginations run away with us is exactly what we were told to do in your freshmen address.
SUMMERS
Well I would try letting your imagination run away with you on a new project.

TYLER
You would.

SUMMERS
Everyone at Harvard is inventing something or starting a new business in their dorm room. Harvard undergraduates believe that inventing a job is better than getting one so can I suggest again that the two of you come up with a new project?

CAMERON
I'm sorry, but that's not the point, sir.

SUMMERS
What's the point?

CAMERON
You don't have to be an intellectual property expert to understand the difference between right and wrong.

SUMMERS
And you're saying that I don't?

CAMERON
Of course I'm not saying that.

TYLER
I'm saying that.

SUMMERS looks at TYLER and then smiles...

TYLER (CONT'D)
Just start another project? Like we're making a diorama for the science fair?

SUMMERS
Yes. And if you have a goddam problem with that, Mr. Winklevoss, the courts are always at your disposal. Athletes don't get special treatment at this school.

TYLER
Do they get fairness?

SUMMERS
They don't get to run to daddy. Okay? This isn't 50 years ago.
TYLER
Excuse me, sir, but in your analogy, is daddy our father or you?

SUMMERS
Both. Is there anything else I can do for you?

TYLER
Well I wouldn't mind that much if you took a flying--

CAMERON
(stopping him)
Ty.
(beat) Thank you for your time, sir. We appreciate your seeing us.

SUMMERS
Get the door on your way out, would you?

CUT TO:

INT. SUMMERS OUTER OFFICE - DAY

As CAMERON and TYLER exit, TYLER closes the door a little too hard and the brass doorknob comes off in his hand. He drops it on the SECRETARY'S desk as he exits--

TYLER
I broke your 335 year old doorknob.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

GRETCHEN
Eduardo, spring break, you and Mr.
Zuckerberg took a trip to New York.

EDUARDO
Yes.

GRETCHEN
What was the purpose of the trip?

EDUARDO
As CFO, I'd set up some meetings with potential advertisers.

GRETCHEN
Who paid for the trip?
EDUARDO
It was paid for out of the thousand dollar account I'd set up a few months earlier.

GRETHECNY
At this point your thousand dollars was the only money that had been put into the company.

EDUARDO
Yes.

GRETHECNY
How did you feel the meetings went?

EDUARDO
They went terribly.

GRETHECNY
Why?

EDUARDO
Mark was asleep.

MARK
I wasn't asleep.

EDUARDO
Can I rephrase my answer?

GRETHECNY
Sure.

EDUARDO
I wish he'd been asleep.

CUT TO:

INT. AD EXECUTIVE'S OFFICE - DAY

EDUARDO, in a three-piece suit, is pitching the EXECUTIVE.
MARK, in his hoodie and flip-flops, is completely detached and staring at the floor.

EDUARDO
...and we're at 29 schools now with over 75,000 members. People who go on the Facebook tend to stay on longer than almost any other site and here's the most impressive statistic--57% of people who try it once come back. Now if you'll allow me--

EXECUTIVE Excuse me.
EDUARDO

Yes sir.

EXECUTIVE

(re: MARK)

Are we boring him?

CUT BACK TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

GRETCHE

There was one more meeting scheduled for the New York trip.

EDUARDO

Yes. A dinner. It was set up through my girlfriend at the time.

GRETCHE

Would you say that Mark was excited about this meeting?

EDUARDO

Yes, very.

CUT TO:

INT. 66 - NIGHT

66 is a hip and trendy restaurant in Tribeca. The young crowd is drinking cocktails of all different colors and wearing Prada. We FIND EDUARDO in a three-piece suit and MARK in his hoodie and flip-flops, along with EDUARDO's now-girlfriend, JENNY, sitting at a table with an empty seat waiting.

JENNY

They're not gonna card us here.

EDUARDO

They might.

JENNY

Look around.

EDUARDO

It'll be embarrassing.

JENNY

(to MARK)

Tell him they're not gonna card us.

MARK

They're not gonna card us.

EDUARDO

Mark--
MARK
Are you gonna talk about ads again?

EDUARDO
Unless you're the Ballet Theatre of Hartford, the purpose of a business is to make a profit.

MARK
This isn't a business.

EDUARDO
That's tough for me because I'm the business head of the company.

MARK says nothing...

EDUARDO (CONT'D)
(pause)
He's 25 minutes late.

MARK
He's a god, he can be as late as he wants.

EDUARDO
He's not a god.

MARK
What is he?

EDUARDO
25 minutes late.

JENNY
I think Wardo's jealous.

CUT BACK TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

EDUARDO
I honestly wasn't jealous. I was nervous.

GRETCHE
Why?

EDUARDO
I didn't know him at all but I'd done an internet search and asked around. He struck me as kind of a wild man.

CUT BACK TO:
INT.  66 - NIGHT

JENNY

Why?

EDUARDO

He crashed out of two pretty big internet companies in spectacular fashion and he’s got a reputation with drugs.

MARK

He also founded the companies.

EDUARDO

We don’t need him.

MARK

(nodding toward the door)

He’s here.

SEAN PARKER has stepped into the restaurant and is saying hello to the hostess while hugging a waitress.

EDUARDO

And he does own a watch.

SEAN stops at a table to shake hands with a guy in a suit and kiss his girlfriend. It’s sort of an incongruous sight—this 22 year old kid who’s able to work a room like Sinatra. Who the hell is this?

EDUARDO (CONT’D)

(quietly)

Take your time.

JENNY

Stop it.

SEAN makes his way over to MARK’s table—

SEAN

I’m Sean Parker.

EDUARDO

(shaking hands)

How do you do.

SEAN

You must be Eduardo. And Jenny. And Mark, it’s great to meet you.

MARK

(almost beaming)

Great to meet you.
SEAN
You guys don't have anything in front of you.

EDUARDO
We were waiting for—

SEAN
(to a passing WAITRESS)
Tori.

WAITRESS
Hey baby boy.

SEAN
Could you bring out some things? The lacquered pork with that ginger confit? I don't know, tuna tartar, some lobster claws, the foie gras and the shrimp dumplings, that'll get us started. Jenny, what do you like to drink?

JENNY
An appletini?

SEAN
Great. Four.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

EDUARDO
From that point on it was a Sean-a-thon. I'd never seen anyone perform a monologue at dinner before but that's what happened.

CUT TO:

INT. 66 - NIGHT

The CAMERA is moving around the table as SEAN—in and out of MOS—is telling story after story while food is brought, drinks put down, more food brought and more drinks put down. MARK is enthralled, JENNY is sexy and EDUARDO is polite.

EDUARDO (V.O.)
He took us through his episode with Napster.

SEAN
...tried to sell the company to pay the 35 million they said we owed in royalties and in the end we just had to declare bankruptcy but I made a name for myself.
JENNY
I’ll say.

EDUARDO (V.O.)
And then he went to his second business venture which was Plaxo, an online rolodex.

SEAN
See, we had a VC from the beginning. Michael Moritz, a partner at Sequoia Capital who’d invested in Yahoo and Google. Moritz wanted to push me out from the beginning and he hired private detectives to dig up everything on me they could. Did they find anything? No. But I was out of the company. I’m not done with Moritz and Sequoia Capital yet. I swear to God, Mark, before I’m 25 I’m gonna make those guys kiss my ass and then cry like girls. There will be retribution for Plaxo and I’m not just talking. I brought down the record companies with Napster and I’ll bring down Michael Moritz.

EDUARDO
You didn’t bring down the record companies. They won.

SEAN
In court.

EDUARDO
(beat) Yes.

SEAN
(shrugging it off)
Well.

EDUARDO (V.O.)
And he told story after story about life in Silicon Valley, parties at Stanford and down in LA, friends who’d become billionaires—and then he finally got around to the Facebook.

SEAN
Tell me about your progress.

EDUARDO
Well...we’re in 29 schools now and we have over--
SEAN
(ignoring EDUARDO and going for MARK)
Tell me about the strategy you’re using.

MARK
Okay. For instance, we wanted Baylor in Texas but Baylor already had a social network on campus so instead of going right after them, we made a list of every school within a hundred miles and put theFacebook on those campuses first. Pretty soon all the Baylor kids were seeing their friends on our site and we were in.

SEAN Perfect.

EDUARDO
Thank you, it was mine.

JENNY
(to EDUARDO) Easy.

EDUARDO
Settle an argument for us, would you? I say it’s time to start making money from theFacebook but Mark doesn’t want advertising. Who’s right?

SEAN
Neither of you. TheFacebook is cool, that’s what it’s got going for it.

MARK
Yes.

SEAN
You don’t want to ruin it with ads because ads aren’t cool.

MARK Exactly.

SEAN
It’s like you’re throwing the coolest party on campus and someone’s telling you it’s gotta be over at 11:00.

MARK Exactly.

SEAN
You don’t even know what the thing is yet.
MARK
I said exactly that.

SEAN
How big it can get and how far it can go. Picture sharing, news feeds, a virtual champagne room, apps you haven’t even thought of. This is no time to take your chips down. A million dollars isn’t cool. You know what’s cool?

EDUARDO
You?

SEAN
A billion dollars. And that’s where you’re headed. A billion dollar valuation. Unless you take bad advice in which case you might as well have come up with a chain of very successful dry cleaners. When you go fishing you can catch a lot of fish or you can catch a big fish. You ever walk into a guy’s den and see a picture of him standing next to fourteen trout? No, he’s holding an 800 pound marlin and that’s what you want. Hey guys, it’s your company, I don’t have a dog in this fight. I just came to say hi.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - DAY

EDUARDO
No, he came to book an 800 pound marlin and he did. He owned Mark after that dinner. He picked up the check, told Mark they’d talk again soon and was gone. But not before he made his biggest contribution to the company.

CUT BACK TO:

INT. 66 - NIGHT

SEAN
(signing the check)
Oh Hey. Drop the “the”. Just Facebook. It’s cleaner.

And SEAN heads out, patting backs and kissing waitresses along the way.

MARK (knocked out)
Shit.
EDUARDO
That's gotta be some kind of land speed record for talking.

MARK
You want to end the party at eleven.

EDUARDO
I'm trying to pay for the party.

MARK
There won't be a party unless it's cool. (beat) What'd you think?

EDUARDO
Sure, let's drop the "the".

MARK
I meant catching the marlin instead of the 14 trout. Doesn't that sound good?

EDUARDO
Only if you're a trout.

We stipulate.

And that was April 13th, 2004.

SY
You can mark it.

Do you have anything here?

SY
Yes, thanks. Mr. Saverin, have you ever done anything that would be considered legitimate grounds for termination?

EDUARDO
No.

SY
You never did anything to embarrass the company or even seriously jeopardize it?

EDUARDO
No. (beat)

No.

I already found a house for rent on a street two blocks from the Stanford campus. It’s a piece of junk but it’s perfect and it’s got a pool.

EDUARDO
When did you decide to go to California for the summer?

Somewhere in the middle of The Sean Parker Variety Hour?

You’re Jed Clampett?

You guys got The Beverly Hillbillies in--

Yes, we got the show in Brazil, it was genius.

We don't need VCs, we need advertisers and I've got connections to the VCs.

All the desks in the room have been moved to the sides and five desks with laptops set up in the middle. Next to each laptop is a shot glass filled with Jack Daniels.
DUSTIN's holding a watch and MARK is walking slowly back and forth behind the five "interviewees" who are intensely typing at their keyboards.

EDUARDO slowly makes his way through the crowd to MARK. He can see that on the computer screens are a whole lot of numbers and letters that neither he nor we can understand.

He stands next to MARK and watches this for a moment. Every once in a while, one of the contestants will throw back their shot of Jack Daniels which will instantly get re-filled by a PRETTY ASIAN GIRL. Throughout all this the CHEERING CONTINUES.

They're hacking.

All behind a Pix Firewall Emulator. But here's the beauty.

EDUARDO
You know I didn't understand what you just said, right?

MARK
I do know that.

EDUARDO
What's the beauty?

MARK
Every 10th line of code written, they have to drink a shot. And hacking's supposed to be stealth, so anytime the server detects an intrusion, the candidate responsible has to drink a shot. I also have a program running that has a pop-up window appear simultaneously on all five computers--the last candidate to hit the window has to drink a shot. Plus every three minutes they all have to drink a shot.
DUSTIN
(calling out)
Three minutes.

All five candidates drain their shot glasses and slam them down where they get re-filled by the pretty Asian girl.

EDUARDO
Can I ask--what part of the interns' jobs will they need to be able to do drunk?

You're right. A more relevant test would be seeing if they can keep a chicken

What I just said was mean and I'm sorry.

telephone pole on the other side.

MARK grabs onto the handle that's connected to the zip line and flies out over the pool, jumping in with a splash and cheers from DUSTIN and the INTERNS who are waiting their turns on the roof.

DUSTIN pulls the handle back up with a rope that's been rigged, grabs the handle, takes off and jumps into the pool to similar cheers.

The handle gets pulled back on a rope, an INTERN grabs it, jumps--

The INTERN drops into patio furniture as bricks from the chimney come cascading down.

Everyone scrambles--

He's wired in.

The place is computer geek paradise. Computers are everywhere, along with some of the empty boxes they came in. Pizza boxes, Chinese food containers, empty beer bottles and white boards filled with indecipherable code fill the room. There are a couple of large mattresses on the floor and a large map of the U.S. with pins and tags showing the schools where they've already put Facebook and different pins showing the schools they're going for.

As MARK walks to the door, he walks past ANDREW, who's sitting at a computer, writing code and completely oblivious to everything around him.

MARK
(snapping his fingers)
Andrew.

ANDREW
Not now.

MARK
Good boy.

MARK gets to the door and opens it.

He's stunned to see SEAN PARKER standing there with his girlfriend, SHARON.

Sean?

SEAN
Do you live here?
MARK
Yeah. Do you?

Yeah.

SEAN
Is anybody hurt?

No. You live across the street.

SHARON
I'm Sharon.

You know, ironically, we're paying an extra 50 bucks a month 'cause it has a working fireplace.

SEAN
This house is great. The team is great. It's exactly what it should be.

I'm Sean Parker.

The three SEXY GIRLS take us into

INT. RUBY SKYE - CONTINUOUS

It's a hundred-year old theater that's been converted into a 21st Century hot spot for Silicon Valley's rock stars. The lower level is a giant dance floor packed with sweating 20-somethings bouncing to pounding house music. There are raised blocks where scantily dressed professional dancers perform non-stop. A huge lighting grid hangs from the ceiling shooting colored lights and lasers everywhere. Also hanging from the ceiling are two trapeze bars with two performers swinging and contorting.
A WAITRESS holding a tray of colored drinks high over her head takes us through the crowd to a spiral staircase that's being guarded by two more Bouncers with clipboards. The staircase leads up to the 2nd level which is all VIP tables that look out over the dance floor. Each VIP area has a couple of couches and a table covered in bottles of vodka, tequila, rum, mixers, ice, glasses and a private waitress who's happy to bend over and pour a drink for you.

And that's where we catch up with MARK and SEAN. Sitting next to SEAN is a BEAUTIFUL WOMAN and there's another standing behind him and leaning against the couch.

MARK and SEAN have to speak up above the music.

MARK
I still can't believe I rented a house across the street from you.

SEAN
That's not my house. It was Sharon's. I was crashing there for a little bit while I'm taking care of some things. But she's done for the summer so she's back at her parents' place and I'm homeless.

SEAN
She looks familiar to a lot of people.

MARK
What do you mean?
SEAN
Look at any Victoria’s Secret catalogue from the last six months.

MARK
(pause)
You’re kidding.

SEAN
No man. I’ll tell you something, you know how I founded Napster?

MARK
I know everything there is to know about you Sean.

SEAN
Fuck Wikipedia, Mark, no you don’t.
(beat)
I was going out with this girl in high school. And it was great. I thought it was great, but the whole time--almost the whole time we were together, like five months--she was giving blow jobs to the co-captain of the lacrosse team. And I found out and I was willing to forgive her but she told me she loved him. So I had this dream that I would make a billion dollar company. Not a million dollar company--any hack can do that--a billion dollar company. And I would have business cards printed up that said, “I’m CEO...Bitch.”
(beat)
It’s our time. We run the universe. Yeah, she’s a Victoria’s Secret model. I want to know where the fuck Eduardo is.

MARK
He has an internship.

SEAN
An internship?

MARK
In New York.

SEAN
The company’s here. A billion dollar company is here. And what confuses me is that in New York, Eduardo introduced himself as the business head of Facebook. I’ve been at the front of two of the biggest things in the history of the internet and I can tell you that nothing, nothing is more important to a start-up than the energy and ambition of its founders.
(MORE)
SEAN (CONT'D)
You have to live and breathe the project every minute of every day and night. Do you live and breathe Facebook?

MARK
Yes.

SEAN
I know you do. I know those guys back at the house do. The guy's eyes did not blink when a beer bottle smashed into a fireplace 10 feet from his work station. So I'll ask again--where's Eduardo?

MARK
(pause)
It'd be great if you stayed at the house with us.

SEAN
I think I should.

The girls come back--

WOMAN #1
You guys figure out a new way to get porn on your computer?

WOMAN #2
You know most of it's bad but some of it's pretty good.

MARK and SEAN aren't paying attention...

SEAN
What's your goal for the summer?

MARK
We want to be in a hundred schools.

SEAN
Okay, Okay good. I'll tell you what. Gesture of good faith. While you're getting yourself into a hundred schools, I'm gonna put you on two continents.

MARK
(beat) What?

SEAN
Let's line up some shots.
(to the WAITRESS)
You can take away the Cuervo, we'll have Don Julio 1942.
WAITRESS
Absolutely, Mr. Parker.

The WAITRESS goes off--

SEAN

MARK
Yeah.

SEAN
I never told her my name.

CUT TO:

EXT. THE THAMES - DAY

We're looking at a stone bridge crossing a perfectly straight stretch of water against the backdrop of the medieval town of Henley, England--founded in 1179.

And after a moment of placid quiet--

--BOOSH!

Two razor thin skulls explode out from under the bridge for the final, agonizing hundred-meter stretch of the ancient and prestigious Henley Royal Regatta.

The two boats are neck and neck coming out of the bridge. The port-side boat is being crewed by the two Dutch members of the Hollandia Roeiclub. The starboard boat is being crewed by a pair of identical twins wearing tank tops bearing the "H" of Harvard.

We HEAR the ROAR come up from the CROWD in the viewing section. The crowd is dressed as if for opening day at Ascot--the women in flowing dresses and wide-brimmed hats, the men in blazers and brightly colored floral ties.

But the young men in the boats can barely hear the crowd. Just their own breathing as they pull against the longest natural straight stretch of water in the world--a mile and a half torture test against the best competition they've ever faced.

And they're neck and neck. CAMERON and TYLER can't shake the Dutch.

The CROWD is going crazy in their own English way as none of them can remember ever seeing two boats this close this late. Mixed in with the British crowd is a small contingent waving the flag of Holland and a slightly larger contingent of Americans.
We'll notice a stoic man in a VIP viewing section and later we'll be introduced to him as Cameron and Tyler's father. Next to him is their mother, who can barely watch.

Back on the boats it's just the breathing as the skulls slice through the water like jet-powered knives. 50 meters now and there's still no daylight between them.

We see a small trickle of blood from CAMERON's left hand begin to stream down his arm.

25 meters and the Dutch and American fans are going crazy—even the British aristocracy can't help but get caught up in the closest race in the history of the competition. The FATHER is silently willing his boys one more fraction of boat speed—the MOTHER has her hands over her mouth in praying position.

The blood that's covering CAMERON's left arm is being diluted by the sweat that's pouring down from his triceps as they dig, and pull, and pull, and pull, and--

POP!

—the finish gun is fired into the air, the ears come out of the water and the bodies of the crewmen slump over.

CAMERON turns his head to the cheering crowd to see the Dutch group holding a giant flag and jumping up and down. The Americans bring their giant flag down and fold it up.

The two DUTCH CREW MEMBERS pump their fists in the air and hug as the two boats skim along to a gentle stop.

The MOTHER drops her head and looks down. The FATHER refuses to look away.

FROM CAMERON and TYLER, just the breathing.

CUT TO:

EXT. AWARD CEREMONY - DAY

CAMERON and TYLER are standing with their coaches and next to the two DUTCH CREWMEN who are with their coaches. They're on a stand in the Steward's Enclosure, a sprawling and glamorous tented area for the exclusive use of members and their guests.

After a moment, a man in a double breasted navy blazer steps out with his retinue in tow. The man is PRINCE ALBERT of Monaco. He receives a healthy clapping of golf applause as he approaches the stand.

This conversation is done without microphones or anything as modern as that.
AIDE

His Royal Highness, Prince Albert. Sir, may I present Mr. Cameron Winklevoss and Mr. Tyler Winklevoss of Harvard University.

PRINCE ALBERT

Brilliant race. Never seen a race that close. Less than one second, the steward

Yes, Your Highness.

PRINCE ALBERT

My grandfather, Jack Kelly, was one of the premier rowers of his day. I've been seen a race that close?

CAMERON is thinking about starting a war with Monaco right now so he lets his brother do the talking.

TYLER

(beat)

No, Your Highness. Mile and a half races are more commonly won by a boat length or two.

PRINCE ALBERT

Yes, that's absolutely right. Less than a second though in your case. Well as they say, I suppose it just came down to who wanted it more.

CAMERON

(snapping)

Oh what a bullshit cliche: You think we didn't--

TYLER

Cam.

There's an awkward silence for a moment...

PRINCE ALBERT

Will I have the pleasure of watching you both row again in Beijing?

If we make the team, sir, yes. Thank you.

PRINCE ALBERT

Hitting reverse on the computer and watching, over and over again, the bow of the Dutch boat pull ahead by six inches at just the right moment.

CAMERON
Yeah. We didn't want it enough. That was the problem. Fuck you, you fucking little--

DIVYA

I'm sorry, dad. You and mom flew all the way over.

   MR. WINKLEVOSS

Listen to me good, you two. Don't you ever apologize to me for losing a race like that. Don't you ever apologize to anyone for losing a race like that.

Another man comes along, MR. KENWRIGHT.
KENWRIGHT Boys.

TYLER
Oh. Mr. Kenwright. Dad, this is Mr. Kenwright, part of our host family this week.

KENWRIGHT
Pleasure to meet you.

MR. WINKLEVOSS
Good to meet you.

KENWRIGHT
I just had the most extraordinary phone chat with my daughter. She told me that she and her friends are all talking about the race, which ended just a half-hour ago, via their computers. A new website called Facebook. Do you have this in America?

Everyone is frozen...

DIVYA
(pause)
Your daughter doesn't go to school in the U.S.?

KENWRIGHT
No no. Cambridge. Majoring in French literature, though I wasn't aware there was such a thing.

TYLER
(pause)
They have Facebook at Cambridge?

KENWRIGHT
And Oxford, St. Andrews, Warwick and the London School of Economics best as I can tell because that's where her friends are.

MR. WINKLEVOSS
I'm going to find your mother.

KENWRIGHT
Good race, boys. Live to fight another day.

TYLER
Thank you.

The men leave and CAMERON, TYLER and DIVYA are alone. CAMERON looks at them for a moment, then turns back to watching the race film--
TYLER (CONT’D)

Turn it off.
(pause)
Turn it off, Cam. Look at me.

CAMERON turns to his brother...

TYLER (CONT’D)

I don't mind that we got beat by the Dutch by less than a second. That was a fair race, that was a good race and they had the better boat today and they'll see us again. What I mind is that we got beat by Mark Zuckerberg...by less than a second.

(beat)

We tried the Ad Board, we tried the president of the University and we tried talking to him ourselves. Now I'm asking you. For the one-hundredth time. Let's take the considerable resources at our disposal and sue him in a federal court.

CAMERON looks at his brother...then turns back to the computer. He watches the Dutch boat pull ahead at the last moment. TYLER and DIVYA are just about to give up when CAMERON swings back and says--

CAMERON

Let's fucking gut that little nerd.

DIVYA

Finally!

INT. PALO ALTO HOUSE - NIGHT

There's a thunderstorm going on outside and rain is beating hard against the windows. DUSTIN, ANDREW and the INTERNS are hard at work writing code. Green Day is pumping from the speakers.

SEAN is pacing the house on his cell phone while two YOUNG WOMEN--dressed to go out for a party--are at the moment each on a free computer playing each other in a game of Counter-Strike. Basically they're shooting at each other and missing and laughing at their heads off.

It wouldn't appear as if the house has been cleaned since the last time we saw it and in fact there are signs of more wreckage as well as futons, pillows and blankets on the floor.

SEAN

(into phone)

But check it out, I saw him today.

SEAN (CONT'D)
Moritz, Michael Moritz, my Sequoia

Are you guys using Wallhacks or Aimbots?

GIRL #1
We don't know, we're just shooting at each other.

The DOORBELL RINGS but no one pays attention—

SEAN Use Wallhacks.

GIRL #1
Like we know what that is.

Now there's a KNOCKING at the door and we

INT. PALO ALTO HOUSE - NIGHT

SEAN

I saw him getting into his car and he saw me too, I know he did.

(beat)
A Porsche Carrera 911 Turbo. Hang on.

SEAN leans over one of the girls, casually hits a few keys and easily kills several of the other girl's soldiers.

GIRL #1
Yes!

GIRL #2
Hey!

GIRL #1
Bong hit.

DUSTIN
Anybody hear that banging?

While the following is going on, here's what's happening: The girls have gone over to a 12-foot bong that starts at the floor and goes to the landing at the top of the stairs.
It gets lit at the bottom and smoked at the top so the girl who just got her soldiers hit trots up the stairs.

SEAN
(to DUSTIN)
You don’t hear anything, you’re supposed to be writing code.

DUSTIN
Dude, somebody’s at the door.

SEAN goes back to the cell phone conversation as he heads to the door—

SEAN
(into phone)
The guy hires a P.I. to follow me around. Who does that in real life? Michael Moritz and I are gonna meet in a dark alley, I’ll take Sequoia Capital down with him.

SEAN opens the door and the soaking wet EDUARDO is standing there...

EDUARDO
What the hell.

SEAN
(into phone)
I’ll call you back.
(to EDUARDO)
What’s up?

EDUARDO
(long pause)
What’s up?
(beat)
Mark was supposed to get me at the airport two hours ago, I’ve been calling his cell.

SEAN
He was on a 36 hour coding tear so he took a nap for a couple of hours.

EDUARDO walks into the house and surveys the wreckage—

EDUARDO
What in hell happened here?

SEAN
Not happened—happening. The next big thing.

DUSTIN
Wardo!
EDUARDO
Hey man.

SEAN
(to DUSTIN)
Back to work.

The girl at the bottom of the stairs has filled the bowl and lights a lighter--

GIRL #1
You ready?

GIRL #2
Go.

EDUARDO watches as the girl at the top of the stairs takes a 12-foot hit from the tower-bong.

EDUARDO
How old are they, Sean?

SEAN
It’s not polite to ask.

EDUARDO
How old are they?

SEAN
You think you know me, don’t you.

EDUARDO
I’ve read enough.

SEAN
You know how much I’ve read about you?

Nothing.

MARK comes down the stairs--

MARK Wardo.

EDUARDO
I waited an hour for you at the airport.

MARK
What time is it?

EDUARDO
It’s midnight. Or 3AM in New York where I just came from.

MARK
You’ve gotta see some of the new stuff we’ve got. Dustin, show him the wall. I’m just calling it the wall.
SEAN
Forget the wall, tell him about the meeting I've got set up with Peter Thiel.
(to EDUARDO)
You know Peter Thiel?

EDUARDO
No.

SEAN
Why would you? He just runs a two-billion dollar hedge fund called Clarium Capital and was the money behind PayPal.

EDUARDO
(to MARK)
Why's he setting up meetings?

MARK
Thiel may want to make an angel investment.

EDUARDO
I don't care if he's an actual angel, why's he setting up business meetings?

MARK
You've had a long flight.

EDUARDO
No, I've had a long wait on the tarmac at JFK, then a long wait at the passenger loading and unloading zone at SFO and in between there was a long flight. I run the business end of this company, he's a house guest living rent-free on a generous grant from the Eduardo Saverin Foundation.

SEAN
How's the business end going? I see you got some big ticket ad buys lined up.

EDUARDO
Look--

SEAN
The Harvard Bartending Course, the Seneca Club's Red Party and the Mather House annual "Lather Dance". You're just one small step away from bagging Snookies Cookies, I can feel it.

EDUARDO
(to MARK)
Can I talk to you alone for a minute?
MARK Sure.

SEAN (calling out)
Bong hit!

GIRL #2
I'm pretty baked.

SEAN
Don't worry about it, it's just from the pot.

EDUARDO's followed MARK into--

How's it going? How's the internship? How's Jenny?

EDUARDO
How's the internship?

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO
Mark...Jesus, I quit the internship. We've talked about this on the phone, were you even--I quit on my first day.

MARK
I do remember you saying that.

EDUARDO
Yeah, it was a pretty big deal.

MARK
How's Jenny?

EDUARDO
Jenny's psycho.

MARK
That can be fun.

EDUARDO
No I mean she's actually psychotic. She's insanely jealous and she's irrational and she's violent.

MARK
Still, it's nice you have a girlfriend.
EDUARDO
I do not want that guy representing himself as part of this company.

MARK
You gotta move out here, Wardo, this is where it's all happening.

EDUARDO
Did you hear what I just said?

MARK
The connections, the energy--

EDUARDO
Mark--

MARK
--the creativity.

EDUARDO
He's not part of the company.

MARK
We've got over 300,000 members, we're in 160 schools including--

EDUARDO
I'm aware of that.

MARK
--five in Europe.

EDUARDO
I'm aware of that, Mark, I'm the CFO.

MARK
We need more servers than I ever imagined we'd need. We need more programmers. We need more money. He set up the Thiel meeting. He's set up meetings all around town.

EDUARDO
He's set up other meetings?

MARK
Yes.

EDUARDO
Without me knowing anything about it?!

You're in New York!

SEAN

That's comforting.

MAURICE
We’ll file as a Corporation in Delaware

INT. EDUARDO’S APARTMENT - NIGHT

A summer sub-let. A studio apartment the size of a small tool shed.

EDUARDO is asleep on top of the covers in the un-air conditioned apartment when he wakes up to the sound of a key in the door:

One look un-locks, then another--

EDUARDO
Hello?

--and then the last.

The door opens and JENNY is framed by the dingy light of the hallway.

EDUARDO (CONT’D)
Jesus.

JENNY
When did you get back?

EDUARDO
You scared me. I need you to knock first.

JENNY
When did you get back?

EDUARDO
I got back this afternoon.
JENNY
And when were you going to call me?

EDUARDO
Jen, it was kind of a rough trip and I was tired and--

JENNY
Or answer one of my 47 texts? Did you know I sent 47 texts?

EDUARDO
I did, and I thought that was incredibly normal behavior.

JENNY
Are you mocking me?

EDUARDO
I brought you a present.

JENNY
Why does your status say "single" on your Facebook page?

EDUARDO
(beat) What?

JENNY
Why does your relationship status say "single" on your Facebook page?

EDUARDO
I was single when I set up the page.

JENNY
And you just never bothered to change it?

EDUARDO
(beat) I--

JENNY
What?!

EDUARDO
I don't know how.

JENNY
Do I look stupid to you?

EDUARDO
No. Calm down.
JENNY
You’re asking me to believe that the CFO of Facebook doesn’t know how to change his relationship status on Facebook?

EDUARDO
It’s a little embarrassing so you should take it as a sign of trust that I would tell you that.

JENNY
Fuck you, Wardo.

EDUARDO (calming)
Easy.

JENNY
You didn’t change it so you could fuck Silicon Valley skanks every time you go out to see Mark.

EDUARDO
That is not even remotely true and I can promise you that the Silicon Valley skanks don’t care what anyone’s relationship status is on Facebook. Please let me give you your present.

EDUARDO’s cell phone RINGS--

JENNY
Oh, your phone does work.

EDUARDO reaches for his cell but JENNY grabs it first to check the ID.

JENNY (CONT’D)
It’s Mark.

JENNY tosses the still ringing phone back to him--

EDUARDO
Okay, this is gonna be tricky. Here, open your present. It’s a silk scarf.

JENNY
Have you ever seen me wear a scarf?

EDUARDO
This’ll be your first.

EDUARDO’s gotten the gift box out of his half un-packed suitcase, tossed it to JENNY and finally answered the phone.
EDUARDO (CONT’D)

(into phone)

Yeah.

INTERCUT WITH:

INT. PALO ALTO HOUSE -- SAME TIME

MARK

(into his cell phone)

You froze our account?

In the background there's a small celebration going on with SEAN, DUSTIN, the INTERNS and of course some GIRLS. Champagne is being sprayed from shaken bottles and the girls are dancing to triumphant music.

EDUARDO

I did.

MARK

You froze the account.

EDUARDO

I had to get your attention, Mark.

MARK

Do you realize that you jeopardized the entire company? Do you realize that your actions could have easily destroyed everything I've been working on?

EDUARDO

We've been working on.

MARK

Without money, the company can't function.

What EDUARDO can't see behind his back is that JENNY has taken the gift box and lit it on fire with a cigarette lighter.

MARK (CONT’D)

If the servers are down for even a day, our reputation is damaged irreversibly. Users are fickle. Friendster has proven that fact.

And JENNY's now dropped the flaming cardboard box into the wastebasket where the fire grows larger. She casually kicks the basket over with her foot.

EDUARDO

Look--
MARK
Even a small exodus, even a few people leaving would reverberate through the whole user base. The users are interconnected, that's the whole fucking point! College kids are online because their friends are online and if one domino--

EDUARDO
(finally seeing the fire)
Holy shit!

MARK
--goes, all the dominos go! Do you get that?! I'm not going back to Caribbean Night at the Jewish fraternity!

EDUARDO
I've got a fire in my apartment!

MARK
Did you like being nothing?! Did you like being nobody?! Did you like being a pasty-faced geek?! You wanna go back to that?!

EDUARDO
I'm putting you on speaker.

EDUARDO hits a button on his cell and tosses it down. We'll keep hearing MARK's voice as EDUARDO runs out into the hallway, grabs a fire extinguisher from its wall bracket, comes back in and sprays out the fire.

MARK
That was the act of a child, not a businessman. And it certainly wasn't the act of a friend. You know how embarrassed I was when I tried to cash a check? And I was with a girl, Wardo. It happened in front of a girl. I'm not going back to that life,

EDUARDO
(shouting)
Yeah!

MARK
Okay, maybe you were angry, maybe you were frustrated. I'm ready to let, uh, to let bygones be bygones because I've got some good news.

EDUARDO--with the fire now out--picks up the phone.

EDUARDO
I'm sorry. It maybe was angry and it was childish. I needed to get your attention.
MARK
I said I've got some good news.

EDUARDO
What is it?

MARK
Peter Thiel's just made an angel investment of a half a million dollars.

EDUARDO
(pause)
What?

MARK
A half a million dollars and he's setting us up in an office. They want to re-incorporate the company, they want to meet you and they need your signature on some documents so get your ass on the next flight back to San Francisco. I need my CFO.

EDUARDO
(beat—smiles)
I'm on my way.

MARK Wardo.

EDUARDO Yeah.

MARK
We did it.

EDUARDO clicks the phone shut.

JENNY
You're going back there?

EDUARDO
Yes. Also I'm breaking up with you.

INT. FACEBOOK OFFICE - DAY

A glass conference room in the corner of a glass bullpen on a high floor of a high rise.

Cartons are being unpacked, computers are everywhere along with bags of potato chips and boxes of cereal.

In the conference room, EDUARDO is sitting with three LAWYERS at a round, glass table and documents have been put out in front of him.
We can see through the glass that MARK is working at a computer nearby. SEAN is also hovering in the background.

LAWYER
Four documents. These two are common stock purchase agreements allowing you to buy stock in the newly re-incorporated Facebook instead of the old stock which is now worthless. The third is the exchange agreement, that's for exchanging your old shares for new shares and this is the voter holding agreement.

EDUARDO
How many shares of stock will I own?

LAWYER
1,328,334.

EDUARDO
Jesus Christ.

LAWYER
That's a 34.4% ownership share. Why the rise from the original 30%?

EDUARDO
Because you may need to dilute it to award shares to new investors.

LAWYER
I like dealing with business majors.

LAWYER #2
You should know that Mark's already taken his percentage from 60 down to 51.

EDUARDO
Mark doesn't care about money and he needs to be protected.

LAWYER
Dustin Moskowitz owns 6.81%, Sean Parker 6.47%--

EDUARDO
I can live with that.

LAWYER
And Peter Theil 7%. Would you like to use my pen?

I'm sorry. Could you please repeat the question?

COURT REPORTER
Counsel: “And when you signed these documents, were you aware that you were signing your own death certificate?”

EDUARDO
(pause)
No.
(pause)
It was insanity stupid of me not to have my own lawyer look over all the...the, uh...I thought they were my lawyers.

(beat)
I was a Harvard business major.
(then to MARK)
I was your only friend. You had one friend.

(beat)
My father won't look at me.

GRETCHE
(beat)
Okay. Eduardo? Did Mr. Zuckerberg saying anything to you after you signed the papers?

EDUARDO
Well there was a lot of handshaking and congratulations. He'd already told me he wouldn't be coming back to school for at least a semester so we were saying goodbye for a while. And then before I left, he said--

EDUARDO
(quietly can't believe it)
A million members.

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO
Remember the algorithm on the window at

MARK
Yeah.

EDUARDO
Yeah, I'll be here.

EXT. SAN FRANCISCO STREET – DAY

A brand new black Escalade pulls up in front of a gleaming glass and chrome office building. SEAN is at the wheel and MARK, in the passenger seat, is wearing brightly colored pajamas with his hair a mess.

They get out of the car and huddle on the sidewalk.

MARK
You sure about this?

SEAN
Oh yes. You're 20 minutes late. You're going to walk in there and say you overslept and you didn't have time to get dressed. They're gonna pitch you. Sequoia Capital is gonna pitch you. They're gonna tell you why you should take their money.
They're gonna beg you to take their money. You're gonna nod, you're gonna nod, you're gonna nod and then you're gonna say, "Which one of you is Michael Moritz?". Moritz is gonna say, "That's me". And you're gonna say, "Sean Parker says 'Fuck you.' And walk right on out.

MARK
(pause)
Okay.

MARK heads into the office building.
SEAN looks up to the windows of a high floor, points, and says—

SEAN
Fuck. You.

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - EVENING

EDUARDO
In late November I got the e-mail from Mark telling me to come out for the millionth member party.

GRETCHEN
What else did the e-mail say?

EDUARDO
It said that we had to have a business meeting. That Mark and Sean had played some kind of revenge stunt on Michael Moritz and Sequoia Capital and that it had impressed Moritz so much that he was making an investment offer that was hard to turn down.

CUT TO:

INT. NEW FACEBOOK OFFICES - NIGHT

EDUARDO (V.O.)
I went out to California and went straight to the new offices.

And it's clear that we're in the offices of a new, high-tech, very successful internet company. The Facebook logo in blue metallic letters on the wall, the maple desks, new computer monitors, carpeting, a wall covered in graffiti by an artist commissioned for the job and tons of young employees.

EDUARDO (V.O.) (CONT'D)
I didn't know whether to dress for the party or the business meeting so I kind of dressed for both.

We see that most of the employees, especially the women, are dressed to go to an after-work, late-night party.

EDUARDO (V.O.) (CONT'D)
But it didn't matter.

Why not?

SEAN
He's wired in.

EDUARDO

SEAN
Yes.

EDUARDO picks up MARK's laptop over his head and smashes it down on the desk, breaking it into pieces.

EDUARDO
How 'bout now, are you still wired in?

SEAN
(to the girl at the desk he's leaning against)
Call security.

Everyone in the office is frozen, silent and watching.

EDUARDO
It's gonna be like I'm not part of Facebook.

SEAN
It's not gonna be like you're not part of Facebook, you're not part of Facebook.

EDUARDO
My name's on the masthead.

SEAN
Check again.

EDUARDO is momentarily frozen...

EDUARDO
This is because I froze the account?

SEAN
You think we were gonna let you parade around in your ridiculous suits pretending you were running this company?

EDUARDO
Sorry, but my Prada's at the cleaners along with my hoodie and my fuck-you flip-

SEAN
Oooh, security is here. You'll be leaving now.

Two SECURITY GUARDS have come in--

EDUARDO
I'm not signing those papers.

SEAN
We'll get your signature.

EDUARDO
(turning to MARK)
Tell me this isn't about me getting into the Phoenix.

MARK
That's right. It is. Maybe if you'd spent a little less time with your new friends and a little more time with the company this--
EDUARDO
You did it. I always knew you did it. You planted the story about the chicken.

SEAN
(pause)
What the fuck is he talking about?

MARK
I didn’t.

EDUARDO
You had me accused of animal cruelty.

SEAN
Seriously, what the fuck is up with the chicken?

EDUARDO
And I’ll bet you just hated that they identified me as a co-founder of Facebook—which I am! You better lawyer-up, asshole, ’cause I’m not comin’ for my 30 percent, I’m comin’ after everything!

SEAN
(to SECURITY)
Get him outa here.

EDUARDO
I’m going.

SEAN Hang on.

SEAN hands EDUARDO a folded check.

SEAN (CONT’D)
There’s your $19,000. I wouldn’t cash it, though, I drew it on the account you froze.

EDUARDO looks at SEAN...then suddenly and quickly cocks his fist back to punch him in the face. SEAN flinches as EDUARDO holds his punch and lets out a small laugh.

EDUARDO
I like standing next to you, Sean. It makes me look tough in comparison.

EDUARDO exits with the security escort.

There’s a long silence in the room...
SEAN
That's it. That's our show for tonight. I want to see everybody here get geared up for a party. We're gonna walk down to the club like it's the Macy's Thanksgiving Parade. Mackey, put it up on the screen, we've gotta be almost there.

A young employee hits a remote and a few keys on his computer and a huge flat-screen displays a Facebook page with a read-out of the number of members.

999,982

There's scattered applause and excitement as everyone watches.

SEAN takes MARK aside.

SEAN (CONT'D)
You alright?

MARK
Yeah.

(beat)
You were kinda rough on him.

SEAN
That's life in the NFL.

MARK
No. You didn't have to be that rough on him.

SEAN
Listen, I'm putting together a party—

MARK
Sean? You didn't have to be that rough on him.

SEAN
I get it. I'll send flowers. I'm putting together a party after the party at Gamma Phi Beta. Ashleigh over there's a sister and she says her friends are all down.

MARK Ashleigh?

SEAN
Yeah.

MARK
That's great. I've been, you know, I've been talking to her a little. I don't know, I think she likes me.
SEAN
Oh dude.

MARK
What?

SEAN
Yeah.

An intern, ASHLEIGH, comes along with a small package--

ASHLEIGH
Excuse me, Mark?

SEAN
We were just talkin' about you, Ash. We're on for tonight?

ASHLEIGH
Yeah.
(to MARK)
This came in for you.

MARK
You can put it on my desk.

ASHLEIGH puts the small package on Mark's desk.

SEAN
She's 19, I can't help it. But I'll tell you what--after tonight she's yours. In fact, I'm gonna get you in with all sorts of girls you wouldn't have met before.
(calling out)
Mackey!

MACKEY
(calling back)
Yes sir!

SEAN Refresh!

MARK
(blandly to SEAN)
You'd do that for me?

MACKEY hits the "refresh" key and the big screen shows--

1,000,002

CHEERS erupts throughout the place. SEAN grabs MARK and hugs him but MARK doesn't quite hug back--he's still hearing what SEAN just said.

CUT TO:
EXT. SORORITY HOUSE - NIGHT

We can hear the thumping music coming from the party inside, and college kids have spilled out onto the front lawn of this pristine, four-columned house.

INT. SORORITY HOUSE - NIGHT

It’s dark but we can make out people dancing. The place is packed.

CUT TO:

INT. BEDROOM - NIGHT

We hear the thumping music from the party. SEAN’s in there with a couple of guys, ASHLEIGH and another GIRL. SEAN’s got his cell phone out and will snap a picture every once in a while.

GIRL
I can’t find a mirror.

GUY
Do it on anything. You can use a CD.

ASHLEIGH
Do it off this.

ASHLEIGH’s sat on the bed and unbuttoned her top so that she’s in just a bra. She’s offering her chest as a surface off of which to snort cocaine.

GIRL Alright!

The GIRL taps out some coke from a vial onto ASHLEIGH’s chest and starts passing around a rolled up 20-dollar bill for everyone to have a turn and she herself will unbutton her shirt too for the same purpose. All this while SEAN is talking.

SEAN
The next transformative development? A picture sharing application. A place where you view pictures that coincide with your social life. It is the true...digitalization of real life. You don’t just go to a party anymore, you go to a party with your digital camera and your friends relive the party on Facebook. And tagging. The idea that you could tag anyone you wanted in those pictures so that people could find themselves. Then a digital log of every change in a person’s life, broadcast to all their friends instantaneously.
ASHLEIGH
Would this be easier without the bra?

GUY
It's worth finding out.

The girls start happily slipping off their bras--

SEAN
I've spent hours--

ASHLEIGH
Why has the music stopped?

SEAN
I've spent hours watching what people do when they log on.

ASHLEIGH
Seriously, why has the music stopped?

ASHLEIGH has a point. The music stopped in the middle of SEAN's speech and the sound outside from the party just doesn't sound like a party anymore.

SEAN
How they always checked their friends' status updates, checked to see which of their friends had changed their profiles, changed their photos and mostly...we lived on farms, then we lived in cities and now we're gonna live on the internet.

ASHLEIGH
Sean. Stop. Something's going on downstairs.

SEAN stops talking...he senses it too now.

SEAN walks out of the room to the--

INT. STAIRCASE LANDING - CONTINUOUS

And out the window he sees a fleet of police cars with their lights flashing parked in front of the house. Then before he can react, the front door flies open--

POLICE with flashlights walk in--the beams of light streaking across the darkened party floor and the faces.

We HEAR muffled murmurs from the cops of "party's over" and "step to the side" and "nobody's leaving just yet", etc.

SEAN bolts back into--
INT. BEDROOM - CONTINUOUS

—leaving the door open.

SEAN
It's the cops.

And they all spring into action. The girls are putting their bras back on, SEAN is wiping down a night table with the palm of his hand to get the coke dust off.

SEAN (CONT'D)
Your chest.

GIRL Shit.

GUY
Be cool.

POLICEMAN
What's goin' on?

They turn to see TWO POLICEMEN standing in the doorway, their flashlights scanning the room and hitting SEAN's eyes.

SEAN
(beat)
We're sorry, was the music too loud?
We've got kind of a celebration going.

POLICEMAN
Ladies, I need you to put your shirts on.

SEAN
I can have them turn the music down.

One of the policemen casually takes SEAN's hand and sees that his palm looks like he just used it to erase a blackboard. The cop uses his finger to taste what it is.

SEAN (CONT'D)
Yeah, that isn't mine.

POLICEMAN
Okay, could you all stay where you are.

And the handcuffs start to come out and we've got a room of terrified children.

GIRL
Wait, can we just talk for a second?

We start to move in on SEAN...
POLICEMAN
(to SEAN)
You got anything in your pockets I need to know about?

SEAN
No sir.

POLICEMAN
Don’t be stupid now.

SEAN
I don’t.

POLICEMAN
(out of SEAN’s shirt pocket)
What’s this?

SEAN
It’s an Epipen.

And this?

SEAN
That’s my inhaler.

POLICEMAN #2
Ladies, how old are you?

GIRL
I’m 20.

ASHLEIGH
I’m 19.

POLICEMAN
Lying makes it worse.

ASHLEIGH
I’m 17, I’m sorry, I shouldn’t have lied.

SEAN closes his eyes at hearing this news as we HEAR the sound of the cuffs lock around his wrists and we

CUT TO:

INT. NEW FACEBOOK OFFICES - NIGHT

A digital LED clock on the wall tells us it’s 4:40AM.

MARK is sitting at his computer alone. No one else is in the office. The San Francisco skyline is beautiful outside the floor-to-ceiling glass.

His cell phone RINGS and he answers.
MARK

(into phone)
Hello?

INTERCUT WITH:

EXT. POLICE STATION - NIGHT

SEAN, freezing with no coat on, is sitting on the bottom of the steps to the police station. The LAWYER we've seen before is standing in back of him.

SEAN

(into phone)
Listen, something's happened.

We see MARK listening on his end but can't hear SEAN's end of the conversation.

MARK

(pause)
Shit.

SEAN

It's alright, it's gonna be alright. I've posted bond and I wasn't doing anything. I mean, I've got allergies so I can't--

We're back on MARK's side. He listens...listens...

MARK

17?

Back on SEAN's side--

SEAN

I think it was Moritz. I swear, I think it was Michael Moritz.

MARK

(evenly)
This is gonna be news, Sean, it's gonna be online any second.

SEAN

(beat)
I know.

MARK

(blank)
You know with an underage intern and--

SEAN

It's cool, I've got it under control.
MARK
(no panic)
I'll get it under control. I'll call our guys and see what the next move is. But this is gonna be news now.

SEAN
You think it was Moritz? 'Cause I do. And I'm gonna meet that guy in a dark alley one night. Or Eduardo? Did Eduardo have me followed?

MARK
(cool as ice)
Go home, Sean. I'll call our people.

MARK clicks the phone shut. He sits there a moment.

He looks at the small package that Ashleigh dropped on his desk earlier. He opens up the brown paper wrapping and there's a box.

He opens the box—a thousand brand new business cards. He takes one of the business cards out and looks at it.

I'm CEO... bitch

And over this we HEAR a woman's voice...

MARYLIN (V.O.)

CUT TO:

INT. FIRST DEPOSITION ROOM - NIGHT

MARK is sitting alone in the conference room. The only one left is MARYLIN, whose voice we just heard. The lights of the San Francisco skyline fill the huge picture windows.

MARYLIN

Mark?

MARYLIN (CONT'D)
Everyone's gone.

MARK doesn't say anything...

MARYLIN (CONT'D)
We're done for the day.

MARYLIN (CONT'D)
(pause)
Who would you rather be?
MARYLIN
I'm sorry?

MARK
My lawyer or their lawyer?

MARYLIN
(smiles)
Something tells me over the long run there's more money in being your lawyer. What happened to Sean?

MARK
He cashed out most of his stock. Hey listen, all you had all day was that salad. You want to get something to eat?

MARYLIN
I can't.

MARK
I'm not a bad guy.

MARYLIN
I know that. I like you.

MARK
What happens now?

MARYLIN
Sy and the rest of them are at the Palm having a steak. Then they'll come back up to the office and start working on a settlement agreement to present to you.

MARK
They're gonna want to settle?

MARYLIN
Oh yeah. And you're gonna have to pay some bonus money too.

MARK
Why?

MARYLIN
'Cause you're gonna need these guys to sign a non-disclosure agreement and you're gonna need to be indemnified. They say one unflattering word about you in public and you own their house, wife and kids.

MARK
I invented Facebook.
MARYLIN
I’m talking about what a jury’ll see.
That’s what I do, that’s what I’m doing here. I’m trying to specialize in voir dire—jury selection. Clothes, hair, wedding ring, speaking style, likability—

MARK Likability?

MARYLIN
I’ve been licensed to practice law for all of 20 months and I could get a jury to believe you planted the story about Eduardo. You know how? Just by asking the question. Watch. Why weren’t you at the sorority party that night?

MARK
You think I’m the one who called the police?

MARYLIN
Doesn’t matter. I asked the question and now everybody’s thinking about it. You lost the jury in the first 10 minutes.

MARK
(pause)
Farm animals?

MARYLIN
Yeah.

MARK
I was drunk and angry and stupid.

MARYLIN
And blogging.
(pause)
Pay the fine. Get your parking validated.
Get out of it. That’s what Sy and the guys’ll tell you in the morning.

MARK
Would anyone mind if I stayed and used the computer for a minute?

MARYLIN
No. There’s a night guy downstairs. Stay as long as you want.

MARK
Thanks. I appreciate your help today.

MARYLIN
You’re not an asshole, Mark. You just want to be.
MARYLIN, who's been putting on her coat, takes her briefcase and exits.

MARK sits down at the computer. He logs on to Facebook.

He types a name in the search box: "Erica Albright".

Erica's name and picture come up, along with Boston University, '07. Mark smiles. She's on Facebook.

He moves the mouse back and forth between two boxes: "Send a Message" and "Add as a Friend".

He clicks on "Add as a Friend".

A box comes up that reads: "Your request to add Erica Albright as a friend has been sent."

Then MARK clicks to his homepage and waits for the response.

And waits...

They rowed for the U.S. Olympic Team in Beijing and placed sixth.

MARK is settling into his chair. He'll wait all night if he has to.

MARK waits...

And waits...
